For all the purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions, and Skin Diseases, Bilious-ness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms,

Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disorded organ into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skilful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed and of great benefits they have derived from those Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

A MILLIONAIRE ONCE A CLERK.

CUTTING OFF THE BROTHER WHO LENT HIM THE MONEY THAT MADE HIS FORTUNE—BISHOP SIMPSON IN A WESTERN COURT ROOM.

MARSHALL, Mich., Nov. 11.

A contested will case, in which Bishop Simpson of the M. E. Church is a legatee, is exciting much attention in this county. Nearly a million dollars is involved in the dispute. Thomas Duncan, his brother William, and their father emigrated from Ireland to American in 1849. In Pittsburgh the father pursued his calling as a surveyor, and Thomas became a clerk in the Novelty Works. A year or two afterward Thomas invested $300 in the oil regions, but it was a bad investment, and as he was about to re-enter the service of the Novelty Works, his brother William gave him $300 and urged him again to bore for oil. In 1862 the oil began to flow, and Thomas made money rapidly. He subdivided his farm and sold much of it. The property fell into so many hands that affairs were complicated, and Thomas called his brother to his assistance.

William conducted the business, receiving $5,000 a year, and at one time an unset diamond, and at another a pair of gloves; but there were misunderstandings between the brothers, and they progressed slowly. The father died in 1862. Thomas took care of his mother and other members of the family. He became irritable, and was capricious in his favors. The fortune that had been thrust upon him was too much for his general equanamity. In the oil regions he received a serious injury about the head, and after that was weak minded and vacillating. He joined the Methodist church, and was regarded as an exemplary member. In 1870 he went to Ireland to visit his old friends, and died there in 1871. His remains were brought to this country by his mother and brother. In his last illness, it is said, he signed three different wills within a few days of each other.

At last his last will was opened. In it he bequeathed to his mother a house in Pittsburgh and $10,000 to furnish it. To his brother George he gave his property in the oil regions, including his interest in Pithole City and Plummer. A house in Ohio he devised to his brother James during his life-time. He directed that after the payment of his just debts his executors should invest $25,000 in the purchase of an annuity for his mother's support and maintenance during life, and that a sum sufficient to pay the wages of a gardener and two female servants for his brother James during his life be set apart, and that the wages in the whole should not amount to more than thirty-four dollars a month. Ten thousand dollars is set apart for the maintenance of a niece who is blind. His brother James, father of this niece, is to receive $5,000, to be paid in annual instalments of $300. His brother Francis receives $10,000, and his brother George $5,000. To the Rev. Matthew Simpson, of Philadelphia, commonly known as Bishop Simpson, of the M. E. Church, he bequeathed $40,000.

To James Long of Philadelphia, $30,000.—To William Jackson, of Pittsburgh, blacksmith at railroad works, Pennsylvania, and who has lost the use of one of his eyes, $20,000. To William Wilson, of Plummer, harness maker, $10,000. To Mrs. Sarah Prather, of Plummer, $30,000, the same to be paid her in her own right, whether she be married or single, and to be free from the debts or control of any husband she may marry. To Ann Rooke, of New York, a relative of his mother, $10,000. To James Long's sisters, of Philadelphia, $30,000. To the trustees of the M. E. Church, Battle Creek, towards paying debts existing thereon, $10,000. To Mr. Leech, M. E. preacher, if alive, $50,000; but if dead the money to form part of the residuary estate.—To the trustees or committee of the new M. E. Church in Plummer, Pa., toward finishing the church, $25,000.

He directed that should he die in Ireland his body be taken to Pittsburgh and buried beside that of his father, and that his executors apply $30,000 to the erection of a monument over their graves. Toward remodeling the Methodist Episcopal Church in Pithole he gave $10,000. He directed his executors to apply the residue of his estate to whatever religious Methodist object they might think best, and declared that his reason for omitting the names of his brother William and sister Mary Jane, was that he had already provided for them. He added that if any of the persons named in the will should dispute or contest its validity, then the bequest or legacy of that one shall lapse and form a part of the residuary estate. He nominated Bishop Simpson and James Long, of Philadelphia, as his executors.

The brother William decided to contest the will. Counsel of marked ability have been secured on both sides, and Bishop Simpson is daily in attendance. The contestants are trying to show that the testator had frequent spells of aberration, and that his brain must have been affected. They have arrayed the best medical testimony on their side.

Dinah and her Pipe.

A hater of tobacco asked an old negro woman, the fumes of whose pipe were annoying him, if she thought she was a Christian?

"Yes, brudder, I spects I is."

"Do you believe in the Bible?"

"Yes, brudder."

"Do you know that there is a passage in the Scriptures which declares that nothing unclean shall inherit the kingdom of Heaven?"

"Yes, I've heard of it."

"Well, Chloe, you smoke, and you cannot enter the kingdom of Heaven, because there's nothing so unclean as the breath of a smoker. What do you say to that?"

"Why I spects to leave my breff behind me when I go to Heaven."

The White Plains Tom Cats.

A FIGHT, A CHASE, A FLIGHT, A COLLISION AND A POSSIBLE LAW SUIT.

Two ancient Thomas cats, the property of two antiquated maidens, met in a White Plains alley on Saturday. There was an instant recognition and their perambulation ceased. These cats had been inveterate enemies. Both had seen hard times. In his early lifetime one of them had left six inches and a half of his tail on a butcher's block as security for a piece of meat he had attempted to steal. In his zeal to vacate a kitchen shelf where he was lapping cream one day, he landed on a red hot stove and toasted his paws. Sometime afterward he had a misunderstanding with the family dog and lost several ounces of flesh and fur. The other Thomas cat had not yet recovered from a mill wherein his old gray head had been battered and pitted by the claws of his companions. His ears, too, wilted by the winter's frosts, had never regained their erectible powers, and lay recumbent on his head.

When these cats stood face to face the tail and a half which they collectively owned became swollen to twice the natural size. The fur on their backs stood like porcupines' quills, their spines curved upward, they gnashed their teeth, and gave the war whoop. Their embrace was energetic and instantaneous. The battle was fierce, and dust rolled high, fur flew, and small children scampered home. In a neighboring yard two country dogs in town on business, were exploring the contents of a soap grease keg. They were surprised in their enterprise by a pan of dish water, and abandoned the place by the shortest cut across lots. They were soon in the alley where the cats were fighting, and bore down toward them at an alarming speed. The cats divining that the dogs were enemies, ran away with the tail and a half erect. The dogs saw the cats fleeing before them, and taking advantage of the cats' misapprehension, changed their race from one of fright to one of fun. Up railroad avenue went cats and dogs, everbody clearing the way and clapping hands. The dogs pressed the cats hard. One cat ran up a barber's pole and perched on a temperance sign. The other bounded into a buggy and sought refuge on the horse's back. Unaccustomed to such familiarity, the horse sprang forward, butting another horse in the head. Both horses thought they had good reason to be frightened and a fair excuse for a runaway, and off they started. This pleased the dogs, and they joined in the race. The cat on the horse looked serious and held his position. The cat on the temperance sign looked resigned and innocent. As the horses wheeled into the street, they encountered a peanut stand on wheels, but an instant afterward it was on the ground and the air was thick with peanuts. Every small boy stopped to grab a handful before exercising his limbs and lungs after the runaways. The horses ran across the railroad toward the fair ground. Opposite a pickle factory one of them fell. The horse behind with the cat on his back fell over the first horse. The cat was dislodged and ran into the pickle house, followed by the dogs. The cat escaped the dogs' fury, but has not been seen in town since. The horses were not hurt, but the wagons will need reconstruction. The authorities are talking of a suit for damages against the owners of those dogs.

One Thing Lacking.

A clergyman at the hotel has been seriously ill for several days past. A kind-hearted nurse, in the person of an old pioneer of this State, a '49er, has been patiently waiting on the sick man and ministering to his physical wants. The nurse was full of sympathy for his charge, and determined to leave nothing undone that he could do to make his patient comfortable. Fearing that the sick man was backward in making known his wants the nurse addressed him as follows: "Ask of me any favor that you want, and I will be delighted to do it. Don't be afraid to ask." The clergyman faintly responded, "Pray for me." The '49er stood aghast, and replied: "I can whip a grizzly bear, play poker, drink a gallon of lightning whiskey, and swear a blue streak, but I haven't seen the inside of a church for twenty-five years, and can't pray. Don't know where to begin, what to say, who to talk to, nor when to let up. I'll go out on the street and whip the biggest man in town for you—anything but make a prayer." The minister entertains a high opinion of his nurse, and is getting better.

Somebody ought to read the London Court Journal regularly, with especial attention to that curious melange of news and nonsense always to be found in the columns devoted to Scotland. In two months' time he could publish a book on Scotch humor and characteristics that would rival the famous compilation made by Dean Ramsey. Here is an anecdote somewhat abridged, from a recent issue: The will of the parish minister of Cumnock instructed his executors of remembrance of their deceased pastor as they might ask for. An old farmer called at the parsonage shortly after the funeral, and when the widow had informed him of her husband's desire, she asked Sandy what he would like to have. "Weel, my leddy," said Sandy, scratching his head, "I hardly ken what sort o' a memento mori, as ye ca' it, tae hae; but if ye hae nae objection I wud tak' that lump of guano ye hae i' the back yard."

A MILLIONAIRE ONCE A CLERK.

CUTTING OFF THE BROTHER WHO LENT HIM THE MONEY THAT MADE HIS FORTUNE—BISHOP SIMPSON IN A WESTERN COURT ROOM.

MARSHALL, Mich., Nov. 11.

A contested will case, in which Bishop Simpson of the M. E. Church is a legatee, is exciting much attention in this county. Nearly a million dollars is involved in the dispute. Thomas Duncan, his brother William, and their father emigrated from Ireland to American in 1849. In Pittsburgh the father pursued his calling as a surveyor, and Thomas became a clerk in the Novelty Works. A year or two afterward Thomas invested $300 in the oil regions, but it was a bad investment, and as he was about to re-enter the service of the Novelty Works, his brother William gave him $300 and urged him again to bore for oil. In 1862 the oil began to flow, and Thomas made money rapidly. He subdivided his farm and sold much of it. The property fell into so many hands that affairs were complicated, and Thomas called his brother to his assistance.

William conducted the business, receiving $5,000 a year, and at one time an unset diamond, and at another a pair of gloves; but there were misunderstandings between the brothers, and they progressed slowly. The father died in 1862. Thomas took care of his mother and other members of the family. He became irritable, and was capricious in his favors. The fortune that had been thrust upon him was too much for his general equanamity. In the oil regions he received a serious injury about the head, and after that was weak minded and vacillating. He joined the Methodist church, and was regarded as an exemplary member. In 1870 he went to Ireland to visit his old friends, and died there in 1871. His remains were brought to this country by his mother and brother. In his last illness, it is said, he signed three different wills within a few days of each other.

At last his last will was opened. In it he bequeathed to his mother a house in Pittsburgh and $10,000 to furnish it. To his brother George he gave his property in the oil regions, including his interest in Pithole City and Plummer. A house in Ohio he devised to his brother James during his life-time. He directed that after the payment of his just debts his executors should invest $25,000 in the purchase of an annuity for his mother's support and maintenance during life, and that a sum sufficient to pay the wages of a gardener and two female servants for his brother James during his life be set apart, and that the wages in the whole should not amount to more than thirty-four dollars a month. Ten thousand dollars is set apart for the maintenance of a niece who is blind. His brother James, father of this niece, is to receive $5,000, to be paid in annual instalments of $300. His brother Francis receives $10,000, and his brother George $5,000. To the Rev. Matthew Simpson, of Philadelphia, commonly known as Bishop Simpson, of the M. E. Church, he bequeathed $40,000.

To James Long of Philadelphia, $30,000.—To William Jackson, of Pittsburgh, blacksmith at railroad works, Pennsylvania, and who has lost the use of one of his eyes, $20,000. To William Wilson, of Plummer, harness maker, $10,000. To Mrs. Sarah Prather, of Plummer, $30,000, the same to be paid her in her own right, whether she be married or single, and to be free from the debts or control of any husband she may marry. To Ann Rooke, of New York, a relative of his mother, $10,000. To James Long's sisters, of Philadelphia, $30,000. To the trustees of the M. E. Church, Battle Creek, towards paying debts existing thereon, $10,000. To Mr. Leech, M. E. preacher, if alive, $50,000; but if dead the money to form part of the residuary estate.—To the trustees or committee of the new M. E. Church in Plummer, Pa., toward finishing the church, $25,000.

He directed that should he die in Ireland his body be taken to Pittsburgh and buried beside that of his father, and that his executors apply $30,000 to the erection of a monument over their graves. Toward remodeling the Methodist Episcopal Church in Pithole he gave $10,000. He directed his executors to apply the residue of his estate to whatever religious Methodist object they might think best, and declared that his reason for omitting the names of his brother William and sister Mary Jane, was that he had already provided for them. He added that if any of the persons named in the will should dispute or contest its validity, then the bequest or legacy of that one shall lapse and form a part of the residuary estate. He nominated Bishop Simpson and James Long, of Philadelphia, as his executors.

The brother William decided to contest the will. Counsel of marked ability have been secured on both sides, and Bishop Simpson is daily in attendance. The contestants are trying to show that the testator had frequent spells of aberration, and that his brain must have been affected. They have arrayed the best medical testimony on their side.

Dinah and her Pipe.

A hater of tobacco asked an old negro woman, the fumes of whose pipe were annoying him, if she thought she was a Christian?

"Yes, brudder, I spects I is."

"Do you believe in the Bible?"

"Yes, brudder."

"Do you know that there is a passage in the Scriptures which declares that nothing unclean shall inherit the kingdom of Heaven?"

"Yes, I've heard of it."

"Well, Chloe, you smoke, and you cannot enter the kingdom of Heaven, because there's nothing so unclean as the breath of a smoker. What do you say to that?"

"Why I spects to leave my breff behind me when I go to Heaven."

The White Plains Tom Cats.

A FIGHT, A CHASE, A FLIGHT, A COLLISION AND A POSSIBLE LAW SUIT.

Two ancient Thomas cats, the property of two antiquated maidens, met in a White Plains alley on Saturday. There was an instant recognition and their perambulation ceased. These cats had been inveterate enemies. Both had seen hard times. In his early lifetime one of them had left six inches and a half of his tail on a butcher's block as security for a piece of meat he had attempted to steal. In his zeal to vacate a kitchen shelf where he was lapping cream one day, he landed on a red hot stove and toasted his paws. Sometime afterward he had a misunderstanding with the family dog and lost several ounces of flesh and fur. The other Thomas cat had not yet recovered from a mill wherein his old gray head had been battered and pitted by the claws of his companions. His ears, too, wilted by the winter's frosts, had never regained their erectible powers, and lay recumbent on his head.

When these cats stood face to face the tail and a half which they collectively owned became swollen to twice the natural size. The fur on their backs stood like porcupines' quills, their spines curved upward, they gnashed their teeth, and gave the war whoop. Their embrace was energetic and instantaneous. The battle was fierce, and dust rolled high, far flew, and small children scampered home. In a neighboring yard two country dogs in town on business, were exploring the contents of a soap grease keg. They were surprised in their enterprise by a pan of dish water, and abandoned the place by the shortest cut across lots. They were soon in the alley where the cats were fighting, and bore down toward them at an alarming speed. The cats divining that the dogs were enemies, ran away with the tail and a half erect. The dogs saw the cats fleeing before them, and taking advantage of the cats' misapprehension, changed their race from one of fright to one of fun. Up railroad avenue went cats and dogs, everbody clearing the way and clapping hands. The dogs pressed the cats hard. One cat ran up a barber's pole and perched on a temperance sign. The other bounded into a buggy and sought refuge on the horse's back. Unaccustomed to such familiarity, the horse sprang forward, butting another horse in the head. Both horses thought they had good reason to be frightened and a fair excuse for a runaway, and off they started. This pleased the dogs, and they joined in the race. The cat on the horse looked serious and held his position. The cat on the temperance sign looked resigned and innocent. As the horses wheeled into the street, they encountered a peanut stand on wheels, but an instant afterward it was on the ground and the air was thick with peanuts. Every small boy stopped to grab a handful before exercising his limbs and lungs after the runaways. The horses ran across the railroad toward the fair ground. Opposite a pickle factory one of them fell. The horse behind with the cat on his back fell over the first horse. The cat was dislodged and ran into the pickle house, followed by the dogs. The cat escaped the dogs' fury, but has not been seen in town since. The horses were not hurt, but the wagons will need reconstruction. The authorities are talking of a suit for damages against the owners of those dogs.

One Thing Lacking.

A clergyman at the hotel has been seriously ill for several days past. A kind-hearted nurse, in the person of an old pioneer of this State, a '49er, has been patiently waiting on the sick man and ministering to his physical wants. The nurse was full of sympathy for his charge, and determined to leave nothing undone that he could do to make his patient comfortable. Fearing that the sick man was backward in making known his wants the nurse addressed him as follows: "Ask of me any favor that you want, and I will be delighted to do it. Don't be afraid to ask." The clergyman faintly responded, "Pray for me." The '49er stood aghast, and replied: "I can whip a grizzly bear, play poker, drink a gallon of lightning whiskey, and swear a blue streak, but I haven't seen the inside of a church for twenty-five years, and can't pray. Don't know where to begin, what to say, who to talk to, nor when to let up. I'll go out on the street and whip the biggest man in town for you—anything but make a prayer." The minister entertains a high opinion of his nurse, and is getting better.

Somebody ought to read the London Court Journal regularly, with special attention to that curious melange of news and nonsense always to be found in the columns devoted to Scotland. In two months' time he could publish a book on Scotch humor and characteristics that would rival the famous compilation made by Dean Ramsey. Here is an anecdote somewhat abridged, from a recent issue: The will of the parish minister of Cumnock instructed his executors of remembrance of their deceased pastor as they might ask for. An old farmer called at the parsonage shortly after the funeral, and when the widow had informed him of her husband's desire, she asked Sandy what he would like to have. "Weel, my leddy," said Sandy, scratching his head, "I hardly ken what sort o' a memento mori, as ye ca' it, tae hae; but if ye hae nae objection I wud tak' that lump of guano ye hae i' the back yard."

The Daily Freeman.

Kingston, Thursday Morning, Dec. 4.

Disraeli has started anew for the goal of glory and the bays of usefulness. "The lineal descendant of the impenitent thief," as Mr. Gladstone called the author of Lothair, has found honor and praise, strangely enough, in Scotland. His installation as Lord Rector of the University of Glasgow was accomplished amid most brilliant surroundings on the 19th of last month. His oration was worthy of his reputation and bore him into the hearts of the students on the topmost wave of popularity. Perhaps the subtle politician will find a tutor's chair softer than the woolsack and will mix some Scotch honesty with his Abrahamic shrewdness and wit.

Probably the method of settling our controversy with Spain mentioned by the President in his message and adopted by the government will hardly meet the views of those ultraists who have all along been so eager for war. We should all remember, however, that if the apparent partial submission to the Madrid authorities of the question as to whether the Virginius was properly under our protection at all is humiliating, it is offset by the splendid courage shown by Castelar in defying the sentiment of his own people and meeting our demands so squarely as he has. "There never was a good war nor a bad peace," says some political oracle. That statement may stretch the truth a little, but the bonds of union and sympathy into which the experiences of a few weeks past will draw the republicans of the world will surely soothe whatever wounded feeling may linger in our minds.

Mr. Sumner seems to have a hard time trying to get his Civil Rights bill before the Senate. And we confess to no little surprise that Senator Ferry of Connecticut should oppose the measure with the vehemence that marked his deliverance of Tuesday. We knew Mr. Ferry just at the outbreak of the war when he was stumping the Nutmeg State as a candidate for Congress and if our memory is accurate, as we believe it to be, no stronger and more out-and-out radical abolitionist ever ate pumpkin pie. Has Mr. Ferry grown conservative with promotion, and does he forget when he objects to the Civil Rights bill on the ground of its unconstitutionality that the war and its results put a new face on that instrument, and bent all its meaning toward liberty regardless of color or race?

Bishop Cummins has started his new Episcopal church. It will soon come to naught, we suppose. The sect from which he secedes has reason to pray against schismatics, for many spring up within it; but they generally either retrograde into the main body after a while or evaporate into thin air. The only great and successful separation from it was under the leadership of Wesley, who, without intending it, founded a vast and independent organization. The death-warrant of the present feeble secession lies in its lack of a sufficient cause for existing; there is no distinct principle about it to ensure its extension and permanence. The Bishop and his friends should have stuck to the old church and persisted in reforming it, if in their judgment it needed a reform, and not burnt so much useless powder away from the enemy's ranks. The need of the age is not more denominations of Christians, but fewer and better ones. Beside no church was ever established on the basis of a miserable personal altercation. Let Cummins and Cheney take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

Polygamy as a Disqualification.

Mr. Cannon, representative from Utah, was, as we said yesterday, admitted to his seat in the House on his credentials, notwithstanding the opposition made to his taking it on the ground that he is a polygamist.

An interesting question arises in this connection as to whether a plurality of wives is a necessary moral disqualification for a legislator or only a legal one; or whether it is and ought to be both. Mr. Cannon, it was asserted, took public opinion a little by the forelock and divorced three of his wives before leaving home. Now it would seem as though a man capable of so great a sacrifice as that had in him the elements, not of a lawmaker merely, but of a martyr. To lose one dear and intimate matrimonial companion in obedience to what must seem to this much-married Mormon the dictate of a meddlesome world, is more than most men can endure, but to renounce three at one fell stroke, and that too for his country's sake, should place Mr. Cannon high on the list of some appropriate committee. Seriously, the entering in of the outside world, its laws, customs, and fashions, and the intense collision which the disciples of Brigham Young come into with other and more potent influences than their own when they go beyond their narrow territory is doing more to destroy that nest of Americanized Mahommadens than all the armies of the United States. But we are sorry for the women whom the system has so thoroughly debased.

A Good Idea.

As appears from the comments made privately and in the newspapers upon the President's message that document is not eminently perspicuous in some particulars; but it contains, nevertheless, at least one recommendation the propriety of which will not be questioned by anybody. All who have carefully read the document will at once anticipate to what part of its contents we refer; the proposition to establish in the District of Columbia an "institution of learning or university of the highest class by donation of public lands." We feel a slight regret that General Grant should have marred the perfect fitness of this suggestion by intimating the manner in which to meet the cost of carrying it out. Just now the wholesale giving away of the public lands is not the most popular amusement that Congress can indulge in. There is so pervasive and perceptible a flavor of corruption about the way in which some of Uncle Sam's broad acres have been appropriated to private or corporate uses that the people are suspicious of further gifts in that direction. The President recognizes this fact and says that "as a rule" he, too, is opposed to additional grants of land for the purposes indicated, but that in the case respectively of the Rocky Mountains and Missouri Canal and the proposed Washington University he would make exceptions to that rule. We know but little about the desirableness of irrigating a broad strip of western desert by means of an expensive internal improvement, but as to the immediate need of the means of a broader culture in the capital we hold an unshaken conviction. We have, furthermore, sufficient faith in the homely common-sense of General Grant to assure us that had he not been under an unusual pressure of business when he penned his message he would not have forgotten that to establish colleges and other institutions of learning is not the duty of governments so much as it is the prerogative of wealthy and pious stock-jobbers and contractors. In the middle ages dying barons and other feudal despots were in the habit of endowing churches and convents with the money they could no longer enjoy themselves; and on the strength of these post-mortem benefactions, prayers and masses were said for the souls of many defunct robbers and rascals. Now, in a milder and less ostentatious fashion, a fashion more in harmony with our unselfish and humane civilization, why may we not continue that excellent custom? A certain good man, well and long known in Wall street, has set mankind an example in this respect worthy of all imitation. His numerous mistakes in his own favor in the matter of giving false "pints" and "unloading" heavy weights on weaker people will all be covered up and forgotten as men tearfully and thankfully gaze upon the institutions of learning erected with the money he made in the operation. Let us not sell the public lands then to build this college at Washington; it will not be necessary. "Boss" Shepherd will gladly donate the bonds or cash to buy the ground and put up the structure, and what are left of the repentant Credit Mobilierites will enthusiastically furnish the books and fixtures. Then, as Joe Gargery said, "wot larx;" what Latin and Greek in Congress, and what studious classes of members pondering over tomes full of international law; what chemistry and other natural sciences, what poetry and "high art." The Golden Age of Pericles will come again; and the sages of the Academy will dwindle into school-boys beside our National Legislature, redolent with the flowers of oratory, crammed with the bristling points of exact information, simple as Socrates; wise as Aristotle. The President is right; looking over its history we justify his assertion that "There is no place better suited for such an institution than the National Capital."

CURRENT TOPICS.

—The opinions of the press on Williams' appointment are far from flattering.

—Senator Conkling's bill on the back-pay swindle is a sensible one.

—Alex. H. Stephens is said to look like an old mummy. He was so dried up they had to modify the oath for him.

—Harlan's paper wants Sumner to go over frankly to the Democrats so that his place might be filled by a reliable.

—Politicians are cultivating a more retiring disposition than ever before. Here's Casserly going out of public life and politics.

—It has just been discovered that the President made a mistake of a year in his Thanksgiving proclamation, calling 1873 our 97th instead of the 98th year of independence.

—The opening chapters of Theodore Tilton's "Tempest Tossed" incline us to think he will be a second cousin at least to the coming "American Novelist."

—Whitehouse, the only Liberal Congressman from New York, wouldn't vote for Wood, but with Holman voted for Cox. Which was very sensible in Whitehouse.

—The Louisville Courier-Journal cannot understand why Cincinnati should wish peace when a dozen barrels of even her best whiskey introduced into a Spanish army would inevitably destroy the whole force.

—Cole of California thinks the independent movement in that state is petering out and will hardly carry Governor Booth into the Senate. It won't be Casserly, either, Cole thinks, but some new man.

—It will gratify nearly everybody to know that the little observations they have made about the cold weather of November were well founded, as November was the coldest for fifty years. It is always pleasing to have the remarks of our best society thus established.

—The Patent Office has granted a patent for the roasting of persimmon seeds for coffee. In the name of a long-suffering people vainly searching for pure coffee, we protest. The inventor should be hung, or capital punishment be abolished instanter.

—Something of the force with which vessels move upon the sea may be judged from the fact that it is estimated the Loch Earn struck the Ville du Havre with the force of a million tons. When it is also stated that she was sighted fifteen minutes before she struck it seems as if there could be no excuse for the collision.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

—There are said to be twenty-five hundred deserters from the United States regular army scattered throughout the Western country.

—"Goldsmith Maid" has taken apartments at the Fashion stud farm, Trenton, N. J., where she will spend the winter.

—The Cincinnati Commercial says that Bradlaugh has "a power of sarcasm that would blight the impudence of Ben. Butler."

—It is asserted that Tweed advanced the half million dollars wherewith the Hoosac Tunnel contractors were enabled to complete their work.

—Nine hundred government workmen have brought suits in the Court of Claims for their back pay under the eight hour law, and 1,100 more intend to follow suit.

—W. H. Vanderbilt bought a $10,000 trotting mare in Syracuse, the other day. Still the wages of his engineers must be reduced, says the Buffalo Courier.

—It has been discovered that a large tract of land hitherto supposed to belong to Clinton county, Mo., belongs to no county at all, and persons desiring to commit crime can do it there with impunity.

—The extremest verge of patriotic self-sacrifice is overstepped by a Massachusetts hero who has vowed to smoke Connecticut cigars in order to testify his indignation at the Cuban outrage.

—A private letter says that ex-Comptroller Connolly is living very quietly in a small town in the interior of Ireland, on the interest of a miserable pittance of $3,000,000 obtained in New York in a light industry.

—Rev. Charles E. Cheney is greatly pleased with Bishop Cummins' action, and "thanks God that there is one Bishop in the United States who prefers the truth of God to the applause of man, and has the courage to proclaim the truth."

—Watertown has a gathering of cold-blooded young ladies who can sit down and enjoy an entire evening playing euchre. No other town in the United States furnishes a parallel to this.

—George Treat, owner of the horse "Thad Stevens," winner of the $20,000 prize in the recent four-mile running-race at San Francisco, is going to make Charley Ross, the boy who rode the animal, a present of $2,000 in coin and bear his expenses in a first-class school for two years.

—It is a remarkable fact that of the one hundred County Treasurers in Iowa, only six were re-elected at the late election, and of the one hundred and two in Illinois, only about ten were re-elected. The farmers declared that they "would have a new deal," and they have secured it.

—It is related that a man in Fayette county recently, while out gathering blackberries, heard a rattlesnake's peculiar note of warning and looked around on all sides before discovering that he was standing with both feet on the reptile, but so close to its head that it could not bite him. He changed position immediately, but killed the snake.

—The talk of tunneling the English channel has led Englishmen to cast an eye toward Ireland with subterranean intents. And, indeed, the project of tunneling the Irish sea would seem quite feasible. From a point near Belfast across to Scotland the distance is but twelve miles, and a scheme is on foot to tunnel between those places, the estimates amounting to some $23,000,000.

GERMANY.

A Breeze With Spain.

BERLIN, Dec. 3.—The controversy between the German and Spanish governments regarding the German vessels seized by Spanish war vessels in the Phillipine Islands continues to increase in the seriousness of its aspect. The German frigate Kronprinz and the corvette Augusta have been ordered to be prepared for active service at a moment's notice.

THE ARCHBISHOP OF POSEN DETERMINED.

BERLIN, Dec. 3.—Archbishop Ledochowski replies to the demand of the German government for his resignation, refusing to comply, declaring that he is responsible only to the Pope.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The London Press on the Message.

LONDON, Dec. 4—5 A. M.—The Times, in a leader on President Grant's message, says: "The excessive privileges in regard to freedom from search claimed for vessels bearing the American flag would confer immunity on an open pirate. Such pretensions are indeed short-sighted for a mercantile nation. We cannot for a moment believe Congress will adopt the suggestions to prohibit national banks from paying interest on deposits. We do not agree with the President's financial views generally and think he is wrong in attributing the recent troubles to the peculiar character of the currency. The advice to return to specie payment would be more satisfactory if the President told the country how to do it." The article praises the message for its moderation of tone in general and on the Cuban question in particular. England will unreservedly support a policy which requires that Spain must really as well as nominally control Cuba.

The Daily News says the President's language concerning the Virginius affair is moderate and dignified. The Daily Telegraph sees in the demand for the abolition of slavery in Cuba a menace which will greatly increase the difficulties of Castelar's situation. The Standard thinks the only result the threats against Spain will have will be to hinder an adjustment.

THE MEXICAN BORDER.

A Raid and Butchery near San Diego.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Dec. 3.—On the night of the 1st inst. a band of Indians and Mexicans attacked Gray's and Grover's ranches, about seventy miles hence toward the Rio Grande, and killed seven persons and carried off Gray's son. When the courier left fighting was still going on. The scene of the bloody affray is within fifteen miles of San Diego and near ranches containing several hundred people, having no arms, however.

A SAD OCCURRENCE.

Suicide of Judge Peckham's Brother.

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 3.—The man who jumped from the bridge into the river last night proves to be Geo. W. Peckham, an old and esteemed but retired lawyer of this city and brother of Judge Peckham of Albany, who was lost on the Ville du Havre. Mr. Peckham was about eighty years of age, and it is thought the death of his brother produced temporary insanity.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Republican Senatorial Caucus.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—The Republican Senatorial caucus met in adjourned session this morning, but the committee appointed to revise the standing committees was not ready to report and the caucus adjourned until to-morrow. A caucus of Democratic Senators was also held to designate who shall fill the respective vacancies left by the majority for minority representation on the committees. The list not being received from the Republican caucus nothing was done but to adjourn subject to call.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—The committee appointed by the Republican Senate caucus today to revise the standing committees completed this duty. Although the committee decline to furnish information to the press in advance of their report to the caucus, it has been ascertained from a member of the Committee on Foreign Relations that the committee will be the same as in March last—Cameron Chairman, Morton, Hamlin, Howe, Frelinghuysen, Conkling and Schurz.

It is possible that the consideration of defective ballots may change the above figures slightly, but not materially. The vote on the remainder of the temperance ticket was about the same as Williams' for Secretary of State.

METROPOLITAN NEWS.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The loan certificates issued by the Loan Committee of the Associated Banks are being rapidly redeemed. Fourteen of the twenty-six millions issued have been thus far cancelled by the different banks who subscribed. It is possible that before New Year all will be wiped out. No publication will be made of the names of the banks who accepted the loan.

WORK AT THE NAVY-YARD.

Work is brisk at the navy-yard on the Colorado. Saturday work continued night and day on the Florida, Minnesota and Dictator. The Arapiles is taking on coal and will probably leave Saturday.

THE VILLE DU HAVRE.

The agent of the French Steamship Line say the stories telegraphed in special dispatches relative to the loss of the Ville du Havre cannot be correct, as the officer in command stands on the bridge and gives his commands to the helmsman by signal and not by word of mouth. Two men are stationed at the bow and one at the top of the foremast as a look-out and they communicate with the officer on the bridge.

THE FOG.

UNITED STATES CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.

Mr. PRATT submitted a resolution instructing the Committee on Judiciary to inquire whether Congress has constitutional authority to create corporations for constructing railroads and canals penetrating two or more states, and whether it has authority to regulate the rates of railroad transportation over existing roads chartered by states which, by consolidation, have continuous lines running through two or more states.

Mr. FENTON'S bill to provide for the better protection of the northwestern frontier, &c., provides for a loan of $8,000,000 in United States 10-50 4½ per cent. bonds to be made by the United States to the State of New York for the purpose of enlarging the aqueducts and one tier of locks on the Erie and Oswego Canals to the capacity to pass vessels of war twenty-five feet in width and two hundred in length and merchant vessels of six hundred tons burden propelled by steam wherever said canals are less than fifty-two feet wide upon the bottom. The bill also provides that after the payment of the debt for which the canal revenues are now constitutionally pledged and after the canals are thus enlarged their net revenue shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States until the proposed loan of $8,000,000 is repaid. Bonds are to be issued upon the report of commissioners as the work progresses every three months.

Mr. MORRILL argued at length in favor of resumption of specie payment and urged upon Congress the necessity of legislation in that direction. He was not, he said, wedded to any special plan, but favored that proposed by a prominent financier of New York—that the Secretary of the Treasury shall issue certificates payable in four years with interest at 3 65-100 at par in United States notes or gold at the option of the holder, requiring banks to keep one moiety of their reserves in these certificates and for the government to give notice that on January 1st, 1875, it will pay its notes in cash in New York, authorizing the government to negotiate a loan of $200,000,000 in coin at 6 per cent. per annum. The certificates as fast as redeemed may be paid out by the Secretary of the Treasury to satisfy claims against the government. He hoped soon to submit to them a bill providing for the desired return to a specie basis.

Mr. FERRY of Michigan moved to take up the resolution offered by him on Monday to provide for the settlement of the financial derangement.

Mr. WRIGHT of Iowa moved that the Senate proceed to the consideration of executive business, with the understanding that Mr. Ferry be entitled to the floor on his resolution to-morrow. Agreed to.

Mr. STEVENSON of Kentucky presented a petition of 3,500 citizens of Kentucky asking for the passage of a law prohibiting the manufacture of spirituous liquors in the territories of the United States.

The Senate at 2 o'clock went into executive session. After twenty minutes the doors were re-opened and the Senate adjourned until to-morrow.

HOUSE.

Mr. CESSNA of Pennsylvania offered a resolution to admit Messrs. Davis and Hogan of West Virginia without prejudice to their contestants. After some debate referred to the Committee on Elections.

Mr. SCHUMAKER of New York gave notice of a bill to erect in the city of Brooklyn a suitable building for a post office and federal court.

Mr. STORMS of Pennsylvania gave notice of a bill to repeal so much of the act of March 3d, 1873, as prohibits weekly newspapers from passing through the mails free of postage.

Mr. DAWES of Massachusetts introduced a bill to provide for the redemption of the loan of 1858. Referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. COX of New York moved the admission of E. C. Davidson from the fourth district of Louisiana and advocated his motion.

Mr. BUTLER of Massachusetts sent to the Clerk's desk and had read a certificate from Governor Kellogg of Louisiana dated the 29th of November, 1873, and stating that at a special election held in the fourth district of Louisiana on November 24th George L. Smith had received a majority of the votes cast and was duly elected to represent that district in Congress.

Mr. COX intimated that the certificate had been got up in Washington and stated that it was practically impossible to have the vote counted so soon in a district so large and without railroads. He appealed to the House to give the state of Louisiana the right to be heard through at least one representative fairly elected.

Mr. MOREY of Louisiana moved to amend the resolution by inserting the name of George L. Smith instead of Davidson.

Mr. BUTLER of Massachusetts stated that the House by its action yesterday had virtually decided the question, because, if Peters had not died he would have been admitted with Sypher and Sheldon. A special election had been held to fill the vacancy and George L. Smith had been elected and was entitled to his seat.

Mr. MOREY'S amendment was agreed to—yeas 164, nays 94, Woodford of New York and Phelps of New Jersey, Republicans, voting in the negative, and the oath of office was administered to Smith.

Mr. BUTLER of Massachusetts then moved that the credentials of the contestants for the seats from the state of Louisiana be referred to the Committee on Elections.

That committee was announced by the Speaker as follows: Messrs. Smith of New York, Thomas of North Carolina, Hazelton of Wisconsin, Todd of Pennsylvania, Pike of New Hampshire, Siner of Virginia, Robinson of Ohio, Harrison of Tennessee, Arthur of Kentucky, Speer of Pennsylvania and Lamar of Mississippi.

Mr. KARSON of Iowa asked unanimous consent to introduce and have printed a bill to repeal the increase of salary laws.

Mr. BUTLER of Tennessee objected.

The House then at 4 o'clock adjourned.

—The Rev. Henry Ward Beecher announces that he is at work upon the second volume of his "Life of Christ." A large portion of it is already in type, but it will be some months before the concluding volume will appear.

The President's Message.

[CONCLUSION.]

The following is the conclusion of the President's message, which we failed to get owing to the stupidity of the telegraph operator in the New York office:

Projects are on foot, it is believed, to induce Congress to provide for this new class of claims and to remove old ones through the repeal or modification of the statute of limitations, by which they are now barred. I presume these schemes, if proposed, will be received with little favor by Congress and I recommend that persons having claims against the United States cognizable by any tribunal or department thereof be requested to present them at an early day, and that legislation be directed as far as practicable to the defeat of unfounded and unjust demands upon the Government. I would suggest as a means of preventing fraud that witnesses be called upon to appear in person to testify before those tribunals having said claims before them for adjudication. Probably the largest saving to the national Treasury can be secured by timely legislation on those subjects of any of the economic measures that will be proposed. You will be advised of the operations of the Department of Justice by the report of the Attorney-General, and I invite your attention to the amendments of existing laws suggested by him with the view of reducing the expenses of that department.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

The policy inaugurated towards the Indians at the beginning of the last administration has been steadily pushed, and, I believe, with beneficial results. It will be continued with only such modifications as time and experience may demonstrate as necessary. With the encroachments of civilization upon the Indian reservations and hunting-grounds disturbances have taken place between the Indians and whites during the past year, and probably will continue to do so until each race appreciates that the other has rights which must be respected. The policy has been to collect the Indians as rapidly as possible on the reservations, and as far as practicable within what is known as the Indian Territory, and to teach them the arts of civilization and self-support. Where found off their reservations and endangering the peace and safety of the whites they have been punished and will continue to be for like offences. The Indian Territory south of Kansas and west of Arkansas is sufficient in area and agricultural resources to support all the Indians of the Rocky Mountains. In time no doubt all of them, except a few who may select to make their homes among white people, will be collected there. As a preparatory step for this consummation, I am now satisfied that a territorial form of government should be given them, which will secure the treaty rights of the original settlers and protect their homesteads from alienation for a period of twenty years.

THE PATENT OFFICE.

The operations of the Patent Office are growing to such magnitude, and accumulation of material is becoming so great that the necessity for more room is becoming more obvious day by day. I respectfully invite your attention to the reports of the Secretary of the Interior and Commissioner of Patents on this subject.

THE LAND OFFICE.

The business of the General Land Office exhibits a material increase in all its branches during the last fiscal year. During that time there were disposed of out of the public lands 13,030,606 acres, being an amount greater by 1,165,631 acres than was disposed of the preceding year. Of the amount disposed of 1,626,265 acres were sold for cash, 214,940 acres were located with military land warrants, 3,793,612 acres were taken for homesteads, 654,446 acres located with agricultural college scrip, 6,083,538 acres were certified by railroads, 76,576 acres were granted to wagon roads, 238,548 acres were approved to states as swamp lands, 133,681 acres were certified for agricultural colleges, common schools, universities and seminaries; 190,775 acres were approved to States for internal improvements, and 14,222 acres were located with Indian scrip. The cash receipts during the same time were $3,408,515.50, being $190,415.50 in excess of the receipts of the previous year. During the year 30,488,132 acres of public land were surveyed; an increase over the amount surveyed the previous year of 1,037,193 acres; and added to the area previously surveyed, aggregates 616,554,895 acres which have been surveyed, leaving 1,218,443,505 acres of the public land still unsurveyed. The increased and steadily increasing facilities for reaching our unoccupied public domain and for transportation of surplus products, enlarges the available field for desirable homestead locations, thus stimulating settlements and extending year by year, in a gradually increasing ratio, the area of occupation and cultivation.

RUSSIAN EMIGRATION.

The expressed desire of the representatives of a large colony of citizens of Russia to emigrate to this country, as it is understood, with the consent of their government, if certain concessions can be made to enable them to settle in a compact colony, is of great interest as going to show the light in which our institutions are regarded by an industrious and wealthy people, desirous of enjoying civil and religious liberty; and the acquisition of so large an immigration of citizens of a superior class, would, without doubt, be a substantial benefit to the country. I invite attention to the suggestion of the Secretary of the Interior in this behalf.

PENSIONS.

There was paid during the fiscal year for pensions, including the expenses of disbursement, $29,185,289,62, being an amount less by $984,050.88 than was expended for the same purpose the preceding year. Although this statement of expenditures would indicate a material reduction in amount compared with the preceding year, it is believed that the changes in the pension laws at the last session of Congress will absorb that amount the current year. At the close of the last fiscal year there were on the pension rolls 99,804 invalid military pensioners, and 112,088 widows, orphans and dependent widows of deceased soldiers, making a total of that class of 211,892; and 18,266 survivors of the war of 1812, and 5,053 widows of soldiers of that war pensioned, under the act of Congress of February 14, 1871, making a total of that class of 23,319; 1,430 invalid navy pensioners, and 1,770 widows, orphans, and dependent relatives of deceased officers, sailors, and marines of the navy, making a total of navy pensioners of 3,200; and a grand total of pensioners of all classes of 238,411, showing a net increase during the last fiscal year of 6,182. The system adopted for the detection of frauds against the government in the matter of pensions has been productive of satisfactory results, but legislation is needed to provide if possible against the perpetration of such frauds in future.

EDUCATION.

The evidently increasing interest in the cause of education is a most encouraging feature in the general progress and prosperity of the country, and the Bureau of Education is earnest in its efforts to give proper direction to the new appliances and the increased facilities which are being offered to aid the educators of the country in their great work.

A CENTENNIAL CENSUS.

The ninth census has been completed and the report thereof published and distributed and the working force of the Brueau disbanded. The Secretary of the Interior reviews his recommendation for a census to be taken in 1875, to which subject the attention of Congress is invited. The original suggestion in that behalf has met with the general approval of the country, and even if it be not deemed advisable at present to provide for a regular quinquennial census, a census taken in 1875, the report of which could be completed and published before the one hundredth anniversary of our independence, would be especially interesting and valuable as showing the progress of the country during the first century of our national existence. It is believed, however, that a regular census every five years would be of substantial benefit to the country, inasmuch as our growth hitherto has been so rapid that the results of the decennial census are necessarily unreliable as a basis of estimates for the latter years of a decennial period.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

Under the very efficient managemens of the Governor and the Board of Public Works of this District the City of Washington is rapidly assuming the appearance of a capital of which the nation may well be proud. From being a most unsightly place three years ago, disagreeable to pass through in summer in consequence of the dust arising from unpaved streets and almost impassable in the winter from the mud, it is now one of the most sightly cities in the country and can boast of being one of the best paved. The work has been done systematically, the plans, grades, locations of sewers, water and gas mains being determined upon before the work was commenced, thus securing permanency when completed. I question whether so much has ever been accomplished before in any American city for the same expenditures. The government having large reservations in the city and the nation at large having an interest in their capital, I recommend a liberal policy towards the District of Columbia and that the government should bear its just share of the expenses of these improvements. Every citizen visiting the capital feels a pride in its growing beauty, and that he, too, is part owner in the investments made here. I would suggest to Congress the propriety of promoting the establishment in this district of an institution of learning or university of the highest class by the donation of lands. There is no place better suited for such an institution than the national capital. There is no other place in which every citizen is so directly interested.

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

In three successive messages to Congress I have called attention to the subject of "civil-service reform." Action has been taken so far as to authorize the appointment of a board to devise rules governing methods of making appointments and promotions, but there never has been any action making these rules or any rules binding or even entitled to observance, where persons desire the appointment of a friend or the removal of an official who may be disagreeable to them. To have any rules effective they must have the acquiescence of Congress as well as of the executive. I recommend, therefore, the subject to your attention, and suggest that a special committee of Congress might confer with the Civil Service Board during the present session for the purpose of devising such rules as can be maintained, and which will secure the services of honest and capable officials, and which will also protect them in a degree of independence while in office. Proper rules will protect Congress as well as the executive from much needless persecution, and will prove of great value to the public at large.

ADMISSION OF COLORADO.

I would recommend for your favorable consideration the passage of an enabling act for the admittance of Colorado as a state in the Union. It possesses all the elements of a properous state, agricultural and mineral, and I believe has a population to justify such admission. In connection with that I would also recommend the encouragement of a canal for purposes of irrigation from the eastern stage of the Rocky Mountains to the Missouri River. As a rule I am opposed to further donation of public lands for internal improvements owned and controlled by private corporations, but in this instance I would make an exception. Between the Missouri River and the Rocky Mountains there is an arid belt of public land, from 300 to 500 miles in width, perfectly useless for the occupation of man for want of sufficient rain to secure the growth of any products. An irrigating canal would make productive a belt as wide as the supply of water could be made to spread over across this entire country, and would secure a cordon of settlements connecting the present population of the mountain and mining regions with that of the older states. All the land reclaimed would be clear gain. If all alternate sections are retained by the government, I would suggest that the retained sections be thrown open to the entry under the homestead laws, or sold to actual settlers for a very low price.

AMNESTY.

I renew my previous recommendation to Congress for general amnesty. The number engaged in the late rebellion yet laboring under disabilities is very small, but enough to keep up a constant irritation. No possible danger can accrue to the government by restoring them to eligibility to hold office.

MORE CIVIL RIGHTS.

I suggest for your consideration the enactment of a law to better secure the civil rights which freedom should secure, but has not effectually secured, to the enfranchised slave.

(Signed) U. S. GRANT.

Quick Time.

The President's message, Spanish protocol, and a synopsis of the Treasury report, from Washington to New York, were transmitted by the Western Union Telegraph Company over eight wires, in one hour, the shortest time in which the message was ever received. It is worthy of notice that this was done under disadvantages of unfavorable weather, a steady rain falling at the time on the whole length of the wires between Washington and New York.

Credit is due the officers and operators of the company for the excellent arrangements made and the manner in which they were carried out. Connections of the different portions of the matter were perfect and not a break or omission occurred from beginning to end. The entire report, 12,400 words, passed through the Associated Press office in one hour and twenty minutes, and was in all the offices of the evening papers at 2:35 P. M.

—Wendell Phillips is said to have made three different wills and destroyed them all, and now he won't have any will at all. It has always been Mr. Phillips' infirmity to have more "will" than "way."

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

—There seems to be a very general charitable movement among employers and public officials everywhere, in the interest of the unemployed poor who are likely to suffer a more than ordinarily hard winter, in consequence of the financial crisis.

—A female "saviour" is creating a great sensation in southern Russia. She claims to be the daughter of God, selected to suffer for the redemption of her sex, in the same way that Christ died for the salvation of man. She also claims ability to heal the sick, give sight to the blind, and raise the dead.

—A young lady teacher in one of the Lockport public schools was assaulted by one of her large boy scholars, Friday afternoon, and so badly handled that she was taken home in an unconscious state. The Union says if the case proves as aggravated as reported, "the boy should be suspended—by the neck."

—A man named Flaherty, seeing a sleigh standing in the street at Montreal without a driver, stole therefrom a bottle containing what he supposed to be sherry, but which proved to be wine of colchicum, and which he shared with his friends, the result being the death of seven of them, Saturday, and five more are in a critical condition.

—As a gentleman in Hartford, Conn., was looking over some papers in an old trunk the other day, his little daughter, who stood by, picked up one of them, saying, "Papa, this has dollars on it." On examining it he found that it was an old county bond in another state, for $1,000, with interest at 6 per cent., under date of 1858. Sending it to the proper county seat he received a check for nearly $2,000, the accumulation of principal and interest for upwards of fifteen years.

—William Reed bought a Pullman sleeping car ticket from Chicago to Crestline, Ohio, last January, and having shown it to the porter, was conducted to a berth, but lost the ticket before the conductor came into the car. Several persons testified that he had bought the ticket, and he procured of the agent a certificate to that effect, but was ejected by the conductor. He has recovered $4,000 damages in the Lee County (Ill.) Court.

—The St. Louis live stock dealers celebrated on Friday the opening at East St. Louis of a new stock yard, 656 acres in extent, containing an exchange buildings for the accommodation of the animals, the largest of which is the "hotel de hog," 1,122 by 100 feet in size, with a capacity of 15,000 swine and 10,000 bushels of corn. The grounds are provided with all the conveniences of a town, such as gas, water works, restaurants, etc.

—A thoughtless young man in the Chicago Theatre broke out into a hoarse laugh while the lovely Nilsson was playing Julia in "The Hunchback," the other night, just as the bewitching actress had fainted away at the feet of Clifford. Thereupon Julia arose, and, turning to that miserable young man, gave him so blighting a look that he says he believes her fainting was all a sham, and that theatres are a delusion.

—Poor George Allender! destitute, out of work and setting a very small value on his life, he rode from Martinsburg, Va., to Baltimore, 100 miles, the other day, on the "truck" under a passenger car, where he had only a foot of space vertically, and was obliged to stretch himself out at full length on the timbers. He nearly died from cold and was in great danger of falling, in consequence. The Baltimoreans gave him something for his stomach and something for his purse and sent him to Washington.

—We have received a neatly printed paper from Sacramento entitled The Budget. Alma D. Conner and Anna E. Smith are announced as the "editresses." It strikes us that that is slightly overdoing the e double s business. Why not say teacheress, farmeress, merchantess, ministeress, book-keeperess, telegraph operatoress, hop-pickeress and nincompoopess? There is just as much sense in affixing the ess to these words as to that of editor.—Sun.

—Dried oysters having been included among the articles imported, as published by the Bureau of Statistics, an inquiry made by a Boston firm, as to their origin, has elicited from the chief the following explanation: "Dried oysters are imported into San Francisco, chiefly from China, although a few come from Mexico. They are taken from the shell and dried in the sun, without the use of any salt or chemical preparation, and are imported in wooden boxes containing 100 pounds each. They are consumed mostly by the Chinese residents on the Pacific coast, only a small proportion being used by the Mexican."

—Fred. Douglass told a Washington audience about his personal connection with the John Brown raid, the other day. He said that the constitution for the proposed republic was written at his house in Rochester, and was still in his possession. He spent a whole day and night with Brown and Shields Green in a quarry near Chambersburg, Pa., just before the descent on Harper's Ferry, and tried to dissuade them from the execution of their plan. Twelve years before the raid, Brown laid before Douglass the plan of a general insurrection all along the Allegheny ridges of the slave states with the idea of mounting hundreds of black men on their masters' horses, and letting them ride to free soil.

Kingston, Thursday Morning, Dec. 4.

Disraeli has started anew for the goal of glory and the bays of usefulness. "The lineal descendant of the impenitent thief," as Mr. Gladstone called the author of Lothair, has found honor and praise, strangely enough, in Scotland. His installation as Lord Rector of the University of Glasgow was accomplished amid most brilliant surroundings on the 19th of last month. His oration was worthy of his reputation and bore him into the hearts of the students on the topmost wave of popularity. Perhaps the subtle politician will find a tutor's chair softer than the woolsack and will mix some Scotch honesty with his Abrahamic shrewdness and wit.

Probably the method of settling our controversy with Spain mentioned by the President in his message and adopted by the government will hardly meet the views of those ultraists who have all along been so eager for war. We should all remember, however, that if the apparent partial submission to the Madrid authorities of the question as to whether the Virginius was properly under our protection at all is humiliating, it is offset by the splendid courage shown by Castelar in defying the sentiment of his own people and meeting our demands so squarely as he has. "There never was a good war nor a bad peace," says some political oracle. That statement may stretch the truth a little, but the bonds of union and sympathy into which the experiences of a few weeks past will draw the republicans of the world will surely soothe whatever wounded feeling may linger in our minds.

Mr. Sumner seems to have a hard time trying to get his Civil Rights bill before the Senate. And we confess to no little surprise that Senator Ferry of Connecticut should oppose the measure with the vehemence that marked his deliverance of Tuesday. We knew Mr. Ferry just at the outbreak of the war when he was stumping the Nutmeg State as a candidate for Congress and if our memory is accurate, as we believe it to be, no stronger and more out-and-out radical abolitionist ever ate pumpkin pie. Has Mr. Ferry grown conservative with promotion, and does he forget when he objects to the Civil Rights bill on the ground of its unconstitutionality that the war and its results put a new face on that instrument, and bent all its meaning toward liberty regardless of color or race?

Bishop Cummins has started his new Episcopal church. It will soon come to naught, we suppose. The sect from which he secedes has reason to pray against schismatics, for many spring up within it; but they generally either retrograde into the main body after a while or evaporate into thin air. The only great and successful separation from it was under the leadership of Wesley, who, without intending it, founded a vast and independent organization. The death-warrant of the present feeble secession lies in its lack of a sufficient cause for existing; there is no distinct principle about it to ensure its extension and permanence. The Bishop and his friends should have stuck to the old church and persisted in reforming it, if in their judgment it needed a reform, and not burnt so much useless powder away from the enemy's ranks. The need of the age is not more denominations of Christians, but fewer and better ones. Beside no church was ever established on the basis of a miserable personal altercation. Let Cummins and Cheney take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

Polygamy as a Disqualification.

Mr. Cannon, representative from Utah, was, as we said yesterday, admitted to his seat in the House on his credentials, notwithstanding the opposition made to his taking it on the ground that he is a polygamist.

An interesting question arises in this connection as to whether a plurality of wives is a necessary moral disqualification for a legislator or only a legal one; or whether it is and ought to be both. Mr. Cannon, it was asserted, took public opinion a little by the forelock and divorced three of his wives before leaving home. Now it would seem as though a man capable of so great a sacrifice as that had in him the elements, not of a lawmaker merely, but of a martyr. To lose one dear and intimate matrimonial companion in obedience to what must seem to this much-married Mormon the dictate of a meddlesome world, is more than most men can endure, but to renounce three at one fell stroke, and that too for his country's sake, should place Mr. Cannon high on the list of some appropriate committee. Seriously, the entering in of the outside world, its laws, customs, and fashions, and the intense collision which the disciples of Brigham Young come into with other and more potent influences than their own when they go beyond their narrow territory is doing more to destroy that nest of Americanized Mahommadens than all the armies of the United States. But we are sorry for the women whom the system has so thoroughly debased.

A Good Idea.

As appears from the comments made privately and in the newspapers upon the President's message that document is not eminently perspicuous in some particulars; but it contains, nevertheless, at least one recommendation the propriety of which will not be questioned by anybody. All who have carefully read the document will at once anticipate to what part of its contents we refer; the proposition to establish in the District of Columbia an "institution of learning or university of the highest class by donation of public lands." We feel a slight regret that General Grant should have marred the perfect fitness of this suggestion by intimating the manner in which to meet the cost of carrying it out. Just now the wholesale giving away of the public lands is not the most popular amusement that Congress can indulge in. There is so pervasive and perceptible a flavor of corruption about the way in which some of Uncle Sam's broad acres have been appropriated to private or corporate uses that the people are suspicious of further gifts in that direction. The President recognizes this fact and says that "as a rule" he, too, is opposed to additional grants of land for the purposes indicated, but that in the case respectively of the Rocky Mountains and Missouri Canal and the proposed Washington University he would make exceptions to that rule. We know but little about the desirableness of irrigating a broad strip of Western desert by means of an expensive internal improvement, but as to the immediate need of the means of a broader culture in the capital we hold an unshaken conviction. We have, furthermore, sufficient faith in the homely common-sense of General Grant to assure us that had he not been under an unusual pressure of business when he penned his message he would not have forgotten that to establish colleges and other institutions of learning is not the duty of governments so much as it is the prerogative of wealthy and pious stock-jobbers and contractors. In the middle ages dying barons and other feudal despots were in the habit of endowing churches and convents with the money they could no longer enjoy themselves; and on the strength of these post-mortem benefactions, prayers and masses were said for the souls of many defunct robbers and rascals. Now, in a milder and less ostentatious fashion, a fashion more in harmony with our unselfish and humane civilization, why may we not continue that excellent custom? A certain good man, well and long known in Wall street, has set mankind an example in this respect worthy of all imitation. His numerous mistakes in his own favor in the matter of giving false "pints" and "unloading" heavy weights on weaker people will all be covered up and forgotten as men tearfully and thankfully gaze upon the institutions of learning erected with the money he made in the operation. Let us not sell the public lands then to build this college at Washington; it will not be necessary. "Boss" Shepherd will gladly donate the bonds or cash to buy the ground and put up the structure, and what are left of the repentant Credit Mobilierites will enthusiastically furnish the books and fixtures. Then, as Joe Gargery said, "wot larx;" what Latin and Greek in Congress, and what studious classes of members pondering over tomes full of international law; what chemistry and other natural sciences, what poetry and "high art." The Golden Age of Pericles will come again; and the sages of the Academy will dwindle into school-boys beside our National Legislature, redolent with the flowers of oratory, crammed with the bristling points of exact information, simple as Socrates; wise as Aristotle. The President is right; looking over its history we justify his assertion that "There is no place better suited for such an institution than the National Capital."

CURRENT TOPICS.

—The opinions of the press on Williams' appointment are far from flattering.

—Senator Conkling's bill on the back-pay swindle is a sensible one.

—Alex. H. Stephens is said to look like an old mummy. He was so dried up they had to modify the oath for him.

—Harlan's paper wants Sumner to go over frankly to the Democrats so that his place might be filled by a reliable.

—Politicians are cultivating a more retiring disposition than ever before. Here's Casserly going out of public life and politics.

—It has just been discovered that the President made a mistake of a year in his Thanksgiving proclamation, calling 1873 our 97th instead of the 98th year of independence.

—The opening chapters of Theodore Tilton's "Tempest Tossed" incline us to think he will be a second cousin at least to the coming "American Novelist."

—Whitehouse, the only Liberal Congressman from New York, wouldn't vote for Wood, but with Holman voted for Cox. Which was very sensible in Whitehouse.

—The Louisville Courier-Journal cannot understand why Cincinnati should wish peace when a dozen barrels of even her best whiskey introduced into a Spanish army would inevitably destroy the whole force.

—Cole of California thinks the independent movement in that state is petering out and will hardly carry Governor Booth into the Senate. It won't be Casserly, either, Cole thinks, but some new man.

—It will gratify nearly everybody to know that the little observations they have made about the cold weather of November were well founded, as November was the coldest for fifty years. It is always pleasing to have the remarks of our best society thus established.

—The Patent Office has granted a patent for the roasting of persimmon seeds for coffee. In the name of a long-suffering people vainly searching for pure coffee, we protest. The inventor should be hung, or capital punishment be abolished instanter.

—Something of the force with which vessels move upon the sea may be judged from the fact that it is estimated the Loch Earn struck the Ville du Havre with the force of a million tons. When it is also stated that she was sighted fifteen minutes before she struck it seems as if there could be no excuse for the collision.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

—There are said to be twenty-five hundred deserters from the United States regular army scattered throughout the Western country.

—"Goldsmith Maid" has taken apartments at the Fashion stud farm, Trenton, N. J., where she will spend the winter.

—The Cincinnati Commercial says that Bradlaugh has "a power of sarcasm that would blight the impudence of Ben. Butler."

—Mr. Wm. H. J. Hackett, of Portsmouth, is proposed as the Republican candidate for Governor of New Hampshire. He is a prominent lawyer, and more than seventy years old.

—Two men were fined $12.25 a piece on Monday for evading fare on the Boston & Albany Road, and not having the money, were sent to Worcester jail.

—The rallying cry in Kansas, upon which newspapers of divers views are unanimous, is: "Let no man be elected to office who owes over five years' subscription to a local paper."

—The Washington Republican announces that that city "is rapidly filling up with strangers." It is needless to ask what the strangers are rapidly filling up with.

—It is asserted that Tweed advanced the half million dollars wherewith the Hoosac Tunnel contractors were enabled to complete their work.

—Nine hundred government workmen have brought suits in the Court of Claims for their back pay under the eight hour law, and 1,100 more intend to follow suit.

—W. H. Vanderbilt bought a $10,000 trotting mare in Syracuse, the other day. Still the wages of his engineers must be reduced, says the Buffalo Courier.

—It has been discovered that a large tract of land hitherto supposed to belong to Clinton county, Mo., belongs to no county at all, and persons desiring to commit crime can do it there with impunity.

—The extremest verge of patriotic self-sacrifice is overstepped by a Massachusetts hero who has vowed to smoke Connecticut cigars in order to testify his indignation at the Cuban outrage.

—A private letter says that ex-Comptroller Connolly is living very quietly in a small town in the interior of Ireland, on the interest of a miserable pittance of $3,000,000 obtained in New York in a light industry.

—Rev. Charles E. Cheney is greatly pleased with Bishop Cummins' action, and "thanks God that there is one Bishop in the United States who prefers the truth of God to the applause of man, and has the courage to proclaim the truth."

—Watertown has a gathering of cold-blooded young ladies who can sit down and enjoy an entire evening playing euchre. No other town in the United States furnishes a parallel to this.

—George Treat, owner of the horse "Thad Stevens," winner of the $20,000 prize in the recent four-mile running-race at San Francisco, is going to make Charley Ross, the boy who rode the animal, a present of $2,000 in coin and bear his expenses in a first-class school for two years.

—It is a remarkable fact that of the one hundred County Treasurers in Iowa, only six were re-elected at the late election, and of the one hundred and two in Illinois, only about ten were re-elected. The farmers declared that they "would have a new deal," and they have secured it.

—It is related that a man in Fayette county recently, while out gathering blackberries, heard a rattlesnake's peculiar note of warning and looked around on all sides before discovering that he was standing with both feet on the reptile, but so close to its head that it could not bite him. He changed position immediately, but killed the snake.

—The talk of tunneling the English channel has led Englishmen to cast an eye toward Ireland with subterranean intents. And, indeed, the project of tunneling the Irish sea would seem quite feasible. From a point near Belfast across to Scotland the distance is but twelve miles, and a scheme is on foot to tunnel between those places, the estimates amounting to some $23,000,000.

GERMANY.

A Breeze With Spain.

BERLIN, Dec. 3.—The controversy between the German and Spanish governments regarding the German vessels seized by Spanish war vessels in the Phillipine Islands continues to increase in the seriousness of its aspect. The German frigate Kronprinz and the corvette Augusta have been ordered to be prepared for active service at a moment's notice.

THE ARCHBISHOP OF POSEN DETERMINED.

BERLIN, Dec. 3.—Archbishop Ledochowski replies to the demand of the German government for his resignation, refusing to comply, declaring that he is responsible only to the Pope.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The London Press on the Message.

LONDON, Dec. 4—5 A. M.—The Times, in a leader on President Grant's message, says: "The excessive privileges in regard to freedom from search claimed for vessels bearing the American flag would confer immunity on an open pirate. Such pretensions are indeed short-sighted for a mercantile nation. We cannot for a moment believe Congress will adopt the suggestions to prohibit national banks from paying interest on deposits. We do not agree with the President's financial views generally and think he is wrong in attributing the recent troubles to the peculiar character of the currency. The advice to return to specie payment would be more satisfactory if the President told the country how to do it." The article praises the message for its moderation of tone in general and on the Cuban question in particular. England will unreservedly support a policy which requires that Spain must really as well as nominally control Cuba.

The Daily News says the President's language concerning the Virginius affair is moderate and dignified. The Daily Telegraph sees in the demand for the abolition of slavery in Cuba a menace which will greatly increase the difficulties of Castelar's situation. The Standard thinks the only result the threats against Spain will have will be to hinder an adjustment.

OUTRAGE AND MURDER.

Arrest of the Supposed Criminal.

TROY, Dec. 3.—Ann Shay, a respectable woman employed in Ball's paper mill at North Hoosick, Rensselaer county, was robbed, outraged and murdered on Monday night near the Vermont state line. Charles Green, a disreputable fellow, was arrested on suspicion.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

Loss Ninety Thousand Dollars.

TITUSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 3.—A destructive fire occurred at Greece City last night, destroying thirty stores and dwellings, three hotels and the Producers' Bank. The loss is estimated at $90,000; partially insured, but the amount is unknown. The fire originated in a dry goods store.

ANOTHER OCEAN DISASTER.

The Steamer Pictou Given up as Lost.

HALIFAX, Dec. 3.—The steamer Pictou, missing five weeks, has been finally given up as lost.

There has been a heavy gale on the north Atlantic coast for several days past, with snow and intense cold. A number of shipping disasters are reported, but no loss of life.

THE MEXICAN BORDER.

A Raid and Butchery near San Diego.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Dec. 3.—On the night of the 1st inst. a band of Indians and Mexicans attacked Gray's and Grover's ranches, about seventy miles hence toward the Rio Grande, and killed seven persons and carried off Gray's son. When the courier left fighting was still going on. The scene of the bloody affray is within fifteen miles of San Diego and near ranches containing several hundred people, having no arms, however.

A SAD OCCURRENCE.

Suicide of Judge Peckham's Brother.

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 3.—The man who jumped from the bridge into the river last night proves to be Geo. W. Peckham, an old and esteemed but retired lawyer of this city and brother of Judge Peckham of Albany, who was lost on the Ville du Havre. Mr. Peckham was about eighty years of age, and it is thought the death of his brother produced temporary insanity.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Republican Senatorial Caucus.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—The Republican Senatorial caucus met in adjourned session this morning, but the committee appointed to revise the standing committees was not ready to report and the caucus adjourned until to-morrow. A caucus of Democratic Senators was also held to designate who shall fill the respective vacancies left by the majority for minority representation on the committees. The list not being received from the Republican caucus nothing was done but to adjourn subject to call.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—The committee appointed by the Republican Senate caucus today to revise the standing committees completed this duty. Although the committee decline to furnish information to the press in advance of their report to the caucus, it has been ascertained from a member of the Committee on Foreign Relations that the committee will be the same as in March last—Cameron Chairman, Morton, Hamlin, Howe, Frelinghuysen, Conkling and Schurz.

It is possible that the consideration of defective ballots may change the above figures slightly, but not materially. The vote on the remainder of the temperance ticket was about the same as Williams' for Secretary of State.

METROPOLITAN NEWS.

The Loan Certificates.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The loan certificates issued by the Loan Committee of the Associated Banks are being rapidly redeemed. Fourteen of the twenty-six millions issued have been thus far cancelled by the different banks who subscribed. It is possible that before New Year all will be wiped out. No publication will be made of the names of the banks who accepted the loan.

WORK AT THE NAVY-YARD.

Work is brisk at the navy-yard on the Colorado. Saturday work continued night and day on the Florida, Minnesota and Dictator. The Arapiles is taking on coal and will probably leave Saturday.

THE VILLE DU HAVRE.

The agent of the French Steamship Line say the stories telegraphed in special dispatches relative to the loss of the Ville du Havre cannot be correct, as the officer in command stands on the bridge and gives his commands to the helmsman by signal and not by word of mouth. Two men are stationed at the bow and one at the top of the foremast as a look-out and they communicate with the officer on the bridge.

THE FOG.

The dense fog prevailing to-day occasioned considerable detention on the North and East River ferries. At the post-office some delay occurred in the arrival of mails, east and south mails being an hour late.

TWEED.

Wm. M. Tweed has not yet paid any fines imposed on him, nor is it supposed he will pay them until he has served his term of imprisonment.

SERIOUS COLLISION.

The revenue tug Washington was run down last evening on the North River. The steward was knocked overboard and drowned and customs officer Kilpatrick had a leg broken. The tug was badly stove, but did not sink.

THE WEATHER.

To-Day's Probabilities.

For the southern portion of the Middle States and South Atlantic States diminishing pressure, southeasterly to southwesterly winds and partly cloudy weather.

UNITED STATES CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.

Mr. PRATT submitted a resolution instructing the Committee on Judiciary to inquire whether Congress has constitutional authority to create corporations for constructing railroads and canals penetrating two or more states, and whether it has authority to regulate the rates of railroad transportation over existing roads chartered by states which, by consolidation, have continuous lines running through two or more states.

Mr. FENTON'S bill to provide for the better protection of the northwestern frontier, &c., provides for a loan of $8,000,000 in United States 10-50 4½ per cent. bonds to be made by the United States to the State of New York for the purpose of enlarging the aqueducts and one tier of locks on the Erie and Oswego Canals to the capacity to pass vessels of war twenty-five feet in width and two hundred in length and merchant vessels of six hundred tons burden propelled by steam wherever said canals are less than fifty-two feet wide upon the bottom. The bill also provides that after the payment of the debt for which the canal revenues are now constitutionally pledged and after the canals are thus enlarged their net revenue shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States until the proposed loan of $8,000,000 is repaid. Bonds are to be issued upon the report of commissioners as the work progresses every three months.

Mr. MORRILL argued at length in favor of resumption of specie payment and urged upon Congress the necessity of legislation in that direction. He was not, he said, wedded to any special plan, but favored that proposed by a prominent financier of New York—that the Secretary of the Treasury shall issue certificates payable in four years with interest at 3 65-100 at par in United States notes or gold at the option of the holder, requiring banks to keep one moiety of their reserves in these certificates and for the government to give notice that on January 1st, 1875, it will pay its notes in cash in New York, authorizing the government to negotiate a loan of $200,000,000 in coin at 6 per cent. per annum. The certificates as fast as redeemed may be paid out by the Secretary of the Treasury to satisfy claims against the government. He hoped soon to submit to them a bill providing for the desired return to a specie basis.

Mr. FERRY of Michigan moved to take up the resolution offered by him on Monday to provide for the settlement of the financial derangement.

Mr. WRIGHT of Iowa moved that the Senate proceed to the consideration of executive business, with the understanding that Mr. Ferry be entitled to the floor on his resolution to-morrow. Agreed to.

Mr. STEVENSON of Kentucky presented a petition of 3,500 citizens of Kentucky asking for the passage of a law prohibiting the manufacture of spirituous liquors in the territories of the United States.

The Senate at 2 o'clock went into executive session. After twenty minutes the doors were re-opened and the Senate adjourned until to-morrow.

HOUSE.

Mr. CESSNA of Pennsylvania offered a resolution to admit Messrs. Davis and Hogan of West Virginia without prejudice to their contestants. After some debate referred to the Committee on Elections.

Mr. SCHUMAKER of New York gave notice of a bill to erect in the city of Brooklyn a suitable building for a post office and federal court.

Mr. STORMS of Pennsylvania gave notice of a bill to repeal so much of the act of March 3d, 1873, as prohibits weekly newspapers from passing through the mails free of postage.

Mr. DAWES of Massachusetts introduced a bill to provide for the redemption of the loan of 1858. Referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. COX of New York moved the admission of E. C. Davidson from the fourth district of Louisiana and advocated his motion.

Mr. BUTLER of Massachusetts sent to the Clerk's desk and had read a certificate from Governor Kellogg of Louisiana dated the 29th of November, 1873, and stating that at a special election held in the fourth district of Lousiana on November 24th George L. Smith had received a majority of the votes cast and was duly elected to represent that district in Congress.

Mr. COX intimated that the certificate had been got up in Washington and stated that it was practically impossible to have the vote counted so soon in a district so large and without railroads. He appealed to the House to give the state of Louisiana the right to be heard through at least one representative fairly elected.

Mr. MOREY of Louisiana moved to amend the resolution by inserting the name of George L. Smith instead of Davidson.

Mr. BUTLER of Massachusetts stated that the House by its action yesterday had virtually decided the question, because, if Peters had not died he would have been admitted with Sypher and Sheldon. A special election had been held to fill the vacancy and George L. Smith had been elected and was entitled to his seat.

Mr. MOREY'S amendment was agreed to—yeas 164, nays 94, Woodford of New York and Phelps of New Jersey, Republicans, voting in the negative, and the oath of office was administered to Smith.

Mr. BUTLER of Massachusetts then moved that the credentials of the contestants for the seats from the state of Louisiana be referred to the Committee on Elections.

That committee was announced by the Speaker as follows: Messrs. Smith of New York, Thomas of North Carolina, Hazelton of Wisconsin, Todd of Pennsylvania, Pike of New Hampshire, Siner of Virginia, Robinson of Ohio, Harrison of Tennessee, Arthur of Kentucky, Speer of Pennsylvania and Lamar of Mississippi.

Mr. KARSON of Iowa asked unanimous consent to introduce and have printed a bill to repeal the increase of salary laws.

Mr. BUTLER of Tennessee objected.

The House then at 4 o'clock adjourned.

—The Rev. Henry Ward Beecher announces that he is at work upon the second volume of his "Life of Christ." A large portion of it is already in type, but it will be some months before the concluding volume will appear.

The President's Message.

[CONCLUSION.]

The following is the conclusion of the President's message, which we failed to get owing to the stupidity of the telegraph operator in the New York office:

Projects are on foot, it is believed, to induce Congress to provide for this new class of claims and to remove old ones through the repeal or modification of the statute of limitations, by which they are now barred. I presume these schemes, if proposed, will be received with little favor by Congress and I recommend that persons having claims against the United States cognizable by any tribunal or department thereof be requested to present them at an early day, and that legislation be directed as far as practicable to the defeat of unfounded and unjust demands upon the Government. I would suggest as a means of preventing fraud that witnesses be called upon to appear in person to testify before those tribunals having said claims before them for adjudication. Probably the largest saving to the national Treasury can be secured by timely legislation on those subjects of any of the economic measures that will be proposed. You will be advised of the operations of the Department of Justice by the report of the Attorney-General, and I invite your attention to the amendments of existing laws suggested by him with the view of reducing the expenses of that department.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

The policy inaugurated towards the Indians at the beginning of the last administration has been steadily pushed, and, I believe, with beneficial results. It will be continued with only such modifications as time and experience may demonstrate as necessary. With the encroachments of civilization upon the Indian reservations and hunting-grounds disturbances have taken place between the Indians and whites during the past year, and probably will continue to do so until each race appreciates that the other has rights which must be respected. The policy has been to collect the Indians as rapidly as possible on the reservations, and as far as practicable within what is known as the Indian Territory, and to teach them the arts of civilization and self-support. Where found off their reservations and endangering the peace and safety of the whites they have been punished and will continue to be for like offences. The Indian Territory south of Kansas and west of Arkansas is sufficient in area and agricultural resources to support all the Indians of the Rocky Mountains. In time no doubt all of them, except a few who may select to make their homes among white people, will be collected there. As a preparatory step for this consummation, I am now satisfied that a territorial form of government should be given them, which will secure the treaty rights of the original settlers and protect their homesteads from alienation for a period of twenty years.

THE PATENT OFFICE.

The operations of the Patent Office are growing to such magnitude, and accumulation of material is becoming so great that the necessity for more room is becoming more obvious day by day. I respectfully invite your attention to the reports of the Secretary of the Interior and Commissioner of Patents on this subject.

THE LAND OFFICE.

The business of the General Land Office exhibits a material increase in all its branches during the last fiscal year. During that time there were disposed of out of the public lands 13,030,606 acres, being an amount greater by 1,165,631 acres than was disposed of the preceding year. Of the amount disposed of 1,626,265 acres were sold for cash, 214,940 acres were located with military land warrants, 3,793,612 acres were taken for homesteads, 654,446 acres located with agricultural college scrip, 6,083,538 acres were certified by railroads, 76,576 acres were granted to wagon roads, 238,548 acres were approved to states as swamp lands, 133,681 acres were certified for agricultural colleges, common schools, universities and seminaries; 190,775 acres were approved to States for internal improvements, and 14,222 acres were located with Indian scrip. The cash receipts during the same time were $3,408,515.50, being $190,415.50 in excess of the receipts of the previous year. During the year 30,488,132 acres of public land were surveyed; an increase over the amount surveyed the previous year of 1,037,193 acres; and added to the area previously surveyed, aggregates 616,554,895 acres which have been surveyed, leaving 1,218,443,505 acres of the public land still unsurveyed. The increased and steadily increasing facilities for reaching our unoccupied public domain and for transportation of surplus products, enlarges the available field for desirable homestead locations, thus stimulating settlements and extending year by year, in a gradually increasing ratio, the area of occupation and cultivation.

RUSSIAN EMIGRATION.

The expressed desire of the representatives of a large colony of citizens of Russia to emigrate to this country, as it is understood, with the consent of their government, if certain concessions can be made to enable them to settle in a compact colony, is of great interest as going to show the light in which our institutions are regarded by an industrious and wealthy people, desirous of enjoying civil and religious liberty; and the acquisition of so large an immigration of citizens of a superior class, would, without doubt, be a substantial benefit to the country. I invite attention to the suggestion of the Secretary of the Interior in this behalf.

PENSIONS.

There was paid during the fiscal year for pensions, including the expenses of disbursement, $29,185,289,62, being an amount less by $984,050.88 than was expended for the same purpose the preceding year. Although this statement of expenditures would indicate a material reduction in amount compared with the preceding year, it is believed that the changes in the pension laws at the last session of Congress will absorb that amount the current year. At the close of the last fiscal year there were on the pension rolls 99,804 invalid military pensioners, and 112,088 widows, orphans and dependent widows of deceased soldiers, making a total of that class of 211,892; and 18,266 survivors of the war of 1812, and 5,053 widows of soldiers of that war pensioned, under the act of Congress of February 14,1871, making a total of that class of 23,319; 1,430 invalid navy pensioners, and 1,770 widows, orphans, and dependent relatives of deceased officers, sailors, and marines of the navy, making a total of navy pensioners of 3,200; and a grand total of pensioners of all classes of 238,411, showing a net increase during the last fiscal year of 6,182. The system adopted for the detection of frauds against the government in the matter of pensions has been productive of satisfactory results, but legislation is needed to provide if possible against the perpetration of such frauds in future.

EDUCATION.

The evidently increasing interest in the cause of education is a most encouraging feature in the general progress and prosperity of the country, and the Bureau of Education is earnest in its efforts to give proper direction to the new appliances and the increased facilities which are being offered to aid the educators of the country in their great work.

A CENTENNIAL CENSUS.

The ninth census has been completed and the report thereof published and distributed and the working force of the Brueau disbanded. The Secretary of the Interior reviews his recommendation for a census to be taken in 1875, to which subject the attention of Congress is invited. The original suggestion in that behalf has met with the general approval of the country, and even if it be not deemed advisable at present to provide for a regular quinquennial census, a census taken in 1875, the report of which could be completed and published before the one hundredth anniversary of our independence, would be especially interesting and valuable as showing the progress of the country during the first century of our national existence. It is believed, however, that a regular census every five years would be of substantial benefit to the country, inasmuch as our growth hitherto has been so rapid that the results of the decennial census are necessarily unreliable as a basis of estimates for the latter years of a decennial period.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

Under the very efficient managemens of the Governor and the Board of Public Works of this District the City of Washington is rapidly assuming the appearance of a capital of which the nation may well be proud. From being a most unsightly place three years ago, disagreeable to pass through in summer in consequence of the dust arising from unpaved streets and almost impassable in the winter from the mud, it is now one of the most sightly cities in the country and can boast of being one of the best paved. The work has been done systematically, the plans, grades, locations of sewers, water and gas mains being determined upon before the work was commenced, thus securing permanency when completed. I question whether so much has ever been accomplished before in any American city for the same expenditures. The government having large reservations in the city and the nation at large having an interest in their capital, I recommend a liberal policy towards the District of Columbia and that the government should bear its just share of the expenses of these improvements. Every citizen visiting the capital feels a pride in its growing beauty, and that he, too, is part owner in the investments made here. I would suggest to Congress the propriety of promoting the establishment in this district of an institution of learning or university of the highest class by the donation of lands. There is no place better suited for such an institution than the national capital. There is no other place in which every citizen is so directly interested.

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

In three successive messages to Congress I have called attention to the subject of "civil-service reform." Action has been taken so far as to authorize the appointment of a board to devise rules governing methods of making appointments and promotions, but there never has been any action making these rules or any rules binding or even entitled to observance, where persons desire the appointment of a friend or the removal of an official who may be disagreeable to them. To have any rules effective they must have the acquiescence of Congress as well as of the executive. I recommend, therefore, the subject to your attention, and suggest that a special committee of Congress might confer with the Civil Service Board during the present session for the purpose of devising such rules as can be maintained, and which will secure the services of honest and capable officials, and which will also protect them in a degree of independence while in office. Proper rules will protect Congress as well as the executive from much needless persecution, and will prove of great value to the public at large.

ADMISSION OF COLORADO.

I would recommend for your favorable consideration the passage of an enabling act for the admittance of Colorado as a state in the Union. It possesses all the elements of a properous state, agricultural and mineral, and I believe has a population to justify such admission. In connection with that I would also recommend the encouragement of a canal for purposes of irrigation from the eastern stage of the Rocky Mountains to the Missouri River. As a rule I am opposed to further donation of public lands for internal improvements owned and controlled by private corporations, but in this instance I would make an exception. Between the Missouri River and the Rocky Mountains there is an arid belt of public land, from 300 to 500 miles in width, perfectly useless for the occupation of man for want of sufficient rain to secure the growth of any products. An irrigating canal would make productive a belt as wide as the supply of water could be made to spread over across this entire country, and would secure a cordon of settlements connecting the present population of the mountain and mining regions with that of the older states. All the land reclaimed would be clear gain. If all alternate sections are retained by the government, I would suggest that the retained sections be thrown open to the entry under the homestead laws, or sold to actual settlers for a very low price.

AMNESTY.

I renew my previous recommendation to Congress for general amnesty. The number engaged in the late rebellion yet laboring under disabilities is very small, but enough to keep up a constant irritation. No possible danger can accrue to the government by restoring them to eligibility to hold office.

MORE CIVIL RIGHTS.

I suggest for your consideration the enactment of a law to better secure the civil rights which freedom should secure, but has not effectually secured, to the enfranchised slave.

(Signed) U. S. GRANT.

Quick Time.

The President's message, Spanish protocol, and a synopsis of the Treasury report, from Washington to New York, were transmitted by the Western Union Telegraph Company over eight wires, in one hour, the shortest time in which the message was ever received. It is worthy of notice that this was done under disadvantages of unfavorable weather, a steady rain falling at the time on the whole length of the wires between Washington and New York.

Credit is due the officers and operators of the company for the excellent arrangements made and the manner in which they were carried out. Connections of the different portions of the matter were perfect and not a break or omission occurred from beginning to end. The entire report, 12,400 words, passed through the Associated Press office in one hour and twenty minutes, and was in all the offices of the evening papers at 2:35 P. M.

—Wendell Phillips is said to have made three different wills and destroyed them all, and now he won't have any will at all. It has always been Mr. Phillips' infirmity to have more "will" than "way."

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

—There seems to be a very general charitable movement among employers and public officials everywhere, in the interest of the unemployed poor who are likely to suffer a more than ordinarily hard winter, in consequence of the financial crisis.

—A female "saviour" is creating a great sensation in southern Russia. She claims to be the daughter of God, selected to suffer for the redemption of her sex, in the same way that Christ died for the salvation of man. She also claims ability to heal the sick, give sight to the blind, and raise the dead.

—A young lady teacher in one of the Lockport public schools was assaulted by one of her large boy scholars, Friday afternoon, and so badly handled that she was taken home in an unconscious state. The Union says if the case proves as aggravated as reported, "the boy should be suspended—by the neck."

—A man named Flaherty, seeing a sleigh standing in the street at Montreal without a driver, stole therefrom a bottle containing what he supposed to be sherry, but which proved to be wine of colchicum, and which he shared with his friends, the result being the death of seven of them, Saturday, and five more are in a critical condition.

—As a gentleman in Hartford, Conn., was looking over some papers in an old trunk the other day, his little daughter, who stood by, picked up one of them, saying, "Papa, this has dollars on it." On examining it he found that it was an old county bond in another state, for $1,000, with interest at 6 per cent., under date of 1858. Sending it to the proper county seat he received a check for nearly $2,000, the accumulation of principal and interest for upwards of fifteen years.

—William Reed bought a Pullman sleeping car ticket from Chicago to Crestline, Ohio, last January, and having shown it to the porter, was conducted to a berth, but lost the ticket before the conductor came into the car. Several persons testified that he had bought the ticket, and he procured of the agent a certificate to that effect, but was ejected by the conductor. He has recovered $4,000 damages in the Lee County (Ill.) Court.

—The St. Louis live stock dealers celebrated on Friday the opening at East St. Louis of a new stock yard, 656 acres in extent, containing an exchange buildings for the accommodation of the animals, the largest of which is the "hotel de hog," 1,122 by 100 feet in size, with a capacity of 15,000 swine and 10,000 bushels of corn. The grounds are provided with all the conveniences of a town, such as gas, water works, restaurants, etc.

—A thoughtless young man in the Chicago Theatre broke out into a hoarse laugh while the lovely Nilsson was playing Julia in "The Hunchback," the other night, just as the bewitching actress had fainted away at the feet of Clifford. Thereupon Julia arose, and, turning to that miserable young man, gave him so blighting a look that he says he believes her fainting was all a sham, and that theatres are a delusion.

—Poor George Allender! destitute, out of work and setting a very small value on his life, he rode from Martinsburg, Va., to Baltimore, 100 miles, the other day, on the "truck" under a passenger car, where he had only a foot of space vertically, and was obliged to stretch himself out at full length on the timbers. He nearly died from cold and was in great danger of falling, in consequence. The Baltimoreans gave him something for his stomach and something for his purse and sent him to Washington.

—We have received a neatly printed paper from Sacramento entitled The Budget. Alma D. Conner and Anna E. Smith are announced as the "editresses." It strikes us that that is slightly overdoing the e double s business. Why not say teacheress, farmeress, merchantess, ministeress, book-keeperess, telegraph operatoress, hop-pickeress and nincompoopess? There is just as much sense in affixing the ess to these words as to that of editor.—Sun.

—Dried oysters having been included among the articles imported, as published by the Bureau of Statistics, an inquiry made by a Boston firm, as to their origin, has elicited from the chief the following explanation: "Dried oysters are imported into San Francisco, chiefly from China, although a few come from Mexico. They are taken from the shell and dried in the sun, without the use of any salt or chemical preparation, and are imported in wooden boxes containing 100 pounds each. They are consumed mostly by the Chinese residents on the Pacific coast, only a small proportion being used by the Mexican."

—Fred. Douglass told a Washington audience about his personal connection with the John Brown raid, the other day. He said that the constitution for the proposed republic was written at his house in Rochester, and was still in his possession. He spent a whole day and night with Brown and Shields Green in a quarry near Chambersburg, Pa., just before the descent on Harper's Ferry, and tried to dissuade them from the execution of their plan. Twelve years before the raid, Brown laid before Douglass the plan of a general insurrection all along the Allegheny ridges of the slave states with the idea of mounting hundreds of black men on their masters' horses, and letting them ride to free soil.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

CITY NOTES.

—The weatherwise prophecy a thaw now—all the snow is to melt away and the river is to be as free of ice as it was in July. Selah.

—A new establishment has been started uptown, corner Wall and St. James streets, called the wholesale butchering establishment. It is something entirely new to this city.

—John Schnitzler's monkey took a promenade on Mill street about noon-time on Wednesday. It is hard to tell which enjoyed it the most—the monkey or the hoodlums.

—It would take but few such days as Wednesday to make traveling in wheeled vehicles a necessity. The snow vanished about as rapidly as it came.

—James Kerley, the fancy and dry goods merchant in the Mansion House building, blooms out with a handsome sign painted by Tubby.

—A gentleman says, "Next time I come to Kingston I hope I won't get on a Lark—was on one so long Tuesday came near seeing the boys from Brooklyn. Why don't you have a good ferryboat?" That's just what we want to find ourselves ouit.

—During the thaw yesterday, the gutters on Garden street buildings were a nuisance, dripping on the heads of passers continually. The leaders were stopped up and got their first coating of ice. The Freeman office has the best way to clear leaders. It sends a stream of steam up the pipe and down comes the ice and water.

Personal.

The New Paltz Times says the Lion and the Lamb—The Freeman and Gen. Sharpe—have lain down together. What puzzles us is, which is the Lamb?

A Foundling.

On Tuesday evening last about half-past six o'clock a child, apparently but a few hours old, was left in a basket at a private residence on Rogers street. Mr. Hiram Schoonmaker, one of the Alms Commissioners, was notified of the occurrence, and the little waif was conveyed to the Alms House. No clue to the parentage of the child has yet been obtained.

Ice.

Reports from various ice-houses along the river go to show that very little is left over from last winter's crop, consequently the demand for laborers to garner this winter's harvest for the ice companies will be large. The majority of the companies, it is said, favor $1.75 per day as compensation, but there are a few concerns that desire to screw the price down to $1.50 per day.

Kerhonkson Lodge, G. T.

The following is a list of the officers of Kerhonkson Lodge, No. 846, I. O. of G. T., for the term ending Feb. 28th, 1874: W. C. T., John F. Cash; W. V. T., Charity Schoonmaker; W. S., Adele Wilkinson; W. F. S., Adella Knapp; W. T., A. A. Heidrich; W. C., Wm. Van Keuren; W. M., Cornelius Addis; W. I. G., Carrie Lounsberry; W. O. G., John Landrigan; W. A. S., Cyrus Gillespie; W. D. M., Lucretia Schoonmaker; R. H. S., Tamer Gillespie; L. H. S., Saloma Wilkinson; P. W. C. T., Elias Depuy.

The Situation at Glenham.

The Fishkill Standard in referring to the non-sale of the goods at the Glenham factories says that speculators began to arrive early Tuesday morning, and the 10 o'clock train brought quite a large number from different parts of the country far and near. All congregated at the factory office, where samples were laid out, examined and found to be first-class. The visitors, although very much disappointed, took things easy and repaired to their homes as best they could. The employees are far more disappointed, not having obtained any money since the August pay.—Many are very much broken down, but still they believe that some arrangements will soon be made and that the day is not far off. The stock in the mills on the first day of October, being almost in an unsaleable and perishable condition, consisting of the wool in its many different stages of process, between what is called wool sorting department and case of finished goods, has now been changed into a valuable and desirable class of goods.

Sleighing Parties.

Sleighing parties are all the rage uptown nowadays and the faces of the liverymen wear the most satisfied, cheery smiles imaginable. And why shouldn't they when their stables are empty and their horses are careening over the roads and along the avenues at the rate of $2, simply for an appetizer? Of course the girls enjoy this also, and the way the young clerk's pocket-book is depleted is amazing. Allow us to say no gentleman has completed his outfit without a dozen of Mrs. Smith's Havanas from her shop on North Front street. It is astonishing how one of these cigars soothes a fellow after some livery crab has crabbed by his very stylish turnout; and then it is just as soothing to go by some one else and give him a good whiff from your Havana just to show him the merits of cigar and steed combined.

The Scouts To-Night.

Buffalo Bill and Texas Jack, with Wild Bill, M'lle Morlacchi and a troupe of Comanche Indians from the far western plains, appear this evening at Washington Hall in a new and thrilling drama, representing life on our borders towards the setting sun. The prominent personages of the company have appeared here before; but Wild Bill, the most noted living scout and hunter, is a new-comer in the east, though his fame as a frontiersman is well known to our army officers. Wild Bill during the war did good service as a scout and spy against the rebels in Missouri, and he was the subject of an illustrated article in Harper's Monthly therefor. Gen. Custer in his "Life on the Plains" thus describes him: "He is a plainsman in every sense of the word, yet unlike any other of his class. In person he is about six feet one in height, straight as the straightest of warriors, whose implacable foe he is; broad shoulders, well-formed chest and limbs, and a face strikingly handsome; a sharp, clear blue eye, which stares you straight in the face in conversation; a finely shaped nose, inclined to be acquiline; a well-turned mouth, with lips only partially concealed by a handsome moustache. His hair and complexion are those of a perfect blonde. The former is worn in uncut ringlets, falling carelessly over his powerfully-formed shoulders. Add to this figure a costume blending the immaculate neatness of the dandy with the extravagant taste and style of the frontiersman and you have Wild Bill, then [illegible] the most famous scout on the plains." [illegible] Safford, who will be remembered, was [illegible] as the leading lady with Turck's Star Company, is with the "Scouts" as the leading lady of their dramatic company—a fact which increases the attractions of the entertainment.

A Word to the Charitable.

The winter bids fair to be a hard one for the poor, and there will be great need of charity to the suffering. We are not much in the habit of making recommendations for efforts to relieve special classes, but we depart from our usual custom and call attention to some gentlemen who are in a suffering condition, to whom a little aid would be a sweet boon. It has transpired within a few days past that the salaries of Mr. Litchfield, Mr. Bonner, and Mr. Brodhead have not been paid, all three gentlemen asserting positively that the railroad is largely indebted to them. We have heard no amounts named except in Mr. Bonner's case, who claims $1,800. The amounts must be large, as their services were extremely valuable, and quite often indispensable, especially to themselves. Mr. Litchfield and Mr. Bonner seem to be disposed to suffer the loss without any effort to recover, but Mr. Brodhead has concluded to retain Marius Schoonmaker as his counsel to recover his. In the meantime, however, he will have to wait the slow stages of a law-suit, and then the slower raising of the money, so that a soup-house for Litchfield, Bonner and Brodhead appears to be the least the community can furnish. We have only to say that any company that would cheat three such men would rob an orphan asylum.

Meeting of the Commissioners and Stockholders of the Wallkill Valley Railway.

A meeting of the Commissioners and stockholders of the Wallkill Valley Railway was held at the Eagle Hotel, Kingston, on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mr. Eli Van Keuren of Shawangunk was chosen Chairman and called the meeting to order. Mr. Thomas H. Tremper of Kingston was chosen Secretary.

Mr. Ostrander, Secretary of the Wallkill Valley Railway Company, stated that the meeting was called for the purpose of consultation and action in regard to the suit instituted for a foreclosure of the second mortgage bonds. He further stated that the Directors had concluded to defend the suit, and had appointed as a committee Messrs. Sabler, Ostrander and Lefever for that purpose, and that the Hon. A. Schoonmaker, Jr., had been retained as counsel.

After passing resolutions calling for a detailed statement of the condition of the road, the amount of stock and bonds issued and sold, the amount of the floating debt, and the earnings and the expenses of the road, the meeting adjourned until Friday, Dec. 19th, 1873, at the same place and hour.

By a special request of the Vice President of the Company, Mr. Sahler, a reporter of The Freeman was sent to attend this meeting, but he was not allowed in the room during the meeting, and the proceedings as above stated were ascertained after the meeting had adjourned, by parties who attended it.

City Taxes.

The following are the sums voted to be levied upon the city by the Board of Supervisors:

Quota of county charges,	$60,402 74
Com's N. Y., K. & S. R. R.,	57,358 80
" W. V. R. W.,	11,697 00
For School Commissioners,	113 50
State Tax for Schools,	7,586 28
" " exclusive of Schools,	20,913 02
Treasurer's Fees,	618 60
Support of City Paupers at County Poor House,	1,344 29
Total,	$157,031 23

This is a considerable increase over last year, in the quota of county charges alone the increase being nearly $18,000. These sums, in addition to those necessary for the support of our city government, will require a tax of about 5½ per cent. upon the assessed valuation of the city.

Tom Nast.

Tom Nast made pictures and lots of fun last night at Music Hall. His lecture was only a thread on which to string his caricatures, which were jolly and excited the liveliest interest, the audience watching the features as they grew and applauding loudly as each familiar face and form appeared. His first effort was a Laughing Animal, from which he jumped to the British Lion, with Brother Jonathan. The rapidity and careless manner in which he drew was really wonderful, the lines least expected developing into familiar features. His most elaborate picture was the portrait of Andy Johnson, and which he presented to The Freeman after the lecture. Next came himself upon the ferryboat in the fog, the accuracy of which was patent to all. The portrait of himself and the editor to whom he applied for work when he was fourteen was very droll. Ben. Butler fairly stood upon the canvass. The lecture closed with drawing himself in a night-cap, and with a candle in his hand he bid the audience good-night. The audience was large and well pleased.

A Greene County Romance.

In one of the woolen mills at Leeds, Greene county, Mary Green, aged eighteen, was an operative and earned fair wages. Between her and James Mundy a strong attachment existed, and he promised to marry her. Mary's parents opposed the match, and dissuaded their daughter. The parental dislike of Mundy could not be overcome, so she resolved to run away to New York to obtain employment, and then wrote to her lover to join her. She formed the acquaintance of one Thomas Coleman, who encouraged her scheme and induced her to elope with him about a week ago. She had $22 when she reached New York. Coleman took her to the Jersey house at No. 6 James street. There he robbed her of all her money and several dresses. She wrote to her lover to come to New York and marry her. Meantime her parents went to New York and applied to Capt. Ulman. Officer Musgrave found the girl in an out of the way room of the Jersey house. She was taken back to Leeds Friday night.

Didn't Get That Kind.

The Poughkeepsie Eagle of yesterday says: A somewhat amusing incident recently happened to one of our boss mechanics. He was engaged with a gang of men finishing up a building, and having broken a pane of glass (6x10), he sent one of his men after another to replace it. The man whom he sent, having met with some friends, joined them in several drinks, and as a result got "pretty full." After several hours' absence, he wandered back to his place of work, without the glass. On being questioned he replied: "I have (hic) had a good many glasses to-day, but (hic) none six by ten!"

One of the Old Stock.

An old lady from Sullivan county visited the law office of Groo & Wiggins in this village, last week, on business, who is nearly eighty years of age, and who saw the railway cars for the first time on this occasion. The Saturday previous she went into the woods with her axe and chopped a load of wood, and to use her own expression, "the snow was half a leg deep at that." She doesn't care much for cigars, but finds great enjoyment in a clay pipe.—Middletown Press.

Divorce Suit.

The trial of the divorce case of Meyer vs. Meyer was continued before the Referee, J. E. Van Etten, on Wednesday. A number of physicians were sworn and gave their testimony with the ambiguity usual with these men of physic when giving an opinion in a court of law.

Wallkill Valley Railway Freight.

Superintendent Jones of the Wallkill Valley Railway has completed arrangements with Receiver Brigham of the N. Y., K. & S. R. R., whereby the New York freight of the latter road will go to New York by the Wallkill Valley Railway. This will give the latter road from four to six cars of freight daily.

[Special to the Daily Freeman.]

Home National Bank of Ellenville Affairs.

ELLENVILLE, Dec. 3., 1873.

At a meeting of the directors of the Home National Bank of Ellenville, held on Tuesday, Dec. 2d, Jacob Hermance was elected Vice President, and George H. Smith was appointed Cashier in place of Peter Lefever, resigned. The reason for Lefever's resignation, aside from the extravagant rumors afloat, are simply these: The late Cashier's affairs having been for some time in an embarrassed condition, he recently used about $8,000 of the bank's funds to meet a pressing liability. On this becoming known to the directors Lefever's resignation was immediately requested and tendered. In justice to the ex-Cashier and the bank we have learned that the funds borrowed were amply secured and have already been restored, so that no loss will result to the institution. The watchfulness and promptitude of the directors in thus speedily disposing of all attempts to tamper with the bank funds is worthy of note in these times of defalcation and corruption. The mistake of Mr Lefever, though probably made in all honesty of purpose, is peculiarly unfortunate, as from his high social position and hitherto irreproachable character he will, no doubt, suffer at the hands of a merciless public.

Why We Didn't Get It.

Our readers doubtless wondered at the abruptness of the termination of the President's message, the greater part of which we received by telegraph and published in Wednesday's issue of The Freeman. We promised to give the whole of it, and would have done so but for an unforeseen and rather amusing occurrence, though it was very annoying to us at the time. It was nothing more nor less than a quarrel between the telegraph operators, the way of which was this: The line by which The Freeman despatches are received extends through to Rutland and Burlington, in "Varmount," where the Associated Press dispatches are also taken. Now the Burlington office is unfortunate in having an operator who don't seem to be a first-class lightning slinger, and when a smart New York operator gets rattling in the "press" he seems to get more muddled than Richardson on the finances and frequently "breaks," thus causing the New Yorker to get up on his ear and hurl double-jointed electric adjectives at the Green Mountain boy. The Freeman night operator, Tho. McAllister, is one of the best in the country, and seldom gets tangled up, generally running all night without a "break." When Burlington "breaks" it of course sets Mac back, and he can't take anything till Burlington gets straightened up again. Mac is a good-humored fellow, but he gets his dander up sometimes when interrupted by Burlington in the midst of a nicely running report, and then there will be a triangular fight between New York, Rondout and Burlington, in which blue-colored sentences are sent hissing over the wires and mutual expressions of regard are indulged in, the common end of it being the utterance of the threat all around to put "heads upon" each other if they ever meet.

On Tuesday night the New York operator, having a big job on hand, rushed the President's message off at double electric time and it came rattling into the Burlington office in a way that set the verdant young man who presided at the instrument in a frenzy. Pretty soon he began to yell over the wires to "Hold on, for God's sake!" and the Yorker slowed up. So it went on all night, Burlington howling down the line every few moments to "stop a leetle," and New York swearing back at him. These breaks of course prevented Rondout from getting the message as fast as he otherwise would, and by-and-by he got mad. Then there was music, and if old Ben Franklin could have got up and heard what was going on he would have been stricken dumb with wonder at what his discovery had enabled men to do.

Finally, about four o'clock in the morning, New York, after repeated requests from Rondout to give us the message any way, shut off his instrument and went off, all calls on him exciting no response. Rondout howled and raved at him, The Freeman Night Editor used his most persuasive diplomacy, and finally got his mad up and expressed some very mild sentiments regarding the asinine qualities of the New Yorker, The Freeman compositors sat around calling for copy, even if it was "solid," and the night watch was called on to do a little amateur verbal pyrotechny on behalf of the virtuous Freeman chaps, who don't swear, but all to no good,—New York was as silent as the tomb, and The Freeman went to press short about a column and a half of the message.

If Burlington knows what is healthy for him he will keep incog and never venture down here, for if he does there's a rod pickling for him that will make him a good job for a surgeon.

The Lost Found.

One year ago last July a lad named Michael Barrett, aged about 9 years, disappeared very mysteriously from this city, and notwithstanding a notice was inserted in all of the river papers, and everything done on the part of the anxious parents to learn of his whereabouts, they could learn nothing, and gave him up as lost.

Last evening two boys got off the 5:37 train going south and inquired for the Overseer of the Poor, when one of them was recognized as Michael Barrett. He was taken to the residence of his parents on North Front street, and when the fond mother opened the door and there beheld her long lost boy, her joy knew no bounds. Michael's story runs thus: One day while playing about the dock he was approached by a negro, who persuaded him to go aboard one of the canal boats, and there made him a prisoner. The boat was soon made up into one of the tows and on her way to New York, at which place he was transferred to one of the grain boats plying between New York and Buffalo and made to drive on the tow-path and do other work about the boat. Winter coming on he was discharged and told to go home, but as they had given him no money, he hired out to a farmer near Fonda, N. Y., and worked about the place for his board and clothes. In the spring he again shipped on the canal and has been running between Buffalo and New York all summer, receiving nothing but his board and clothes. This fall he was again discharged, this time at Schenectady, together with a boy named John Carrol of Kingston, who had also been carried away from his home in a similar manner. Being without money and rather homesick, Michael decided to try and get home. The two applied to the overseer of the poor, who shipped them as far as Troy, and from Troy they were sent to this city. Michael says he was going to see Overseer of the Poor Payne and have his friend shipped to Kingston, and then go home himself. This morning the boy Carroll was supplied with a ticket and sufficient money to get him to his home in Kingston, and no doubt ere this another household is made happy by the return of one who had long since been given up as dead.—Hudson Star.

—The Journal states that contrary to the reports that come from distant and adjacent places, the Newburgh Alms House has no more inmates now than it has had in other years at this time, and that the out-door relief granted by the Superintendent is not more than usual at this season. It says "assistance has been given in no inconsiderable amount, but it has been proffered by charitable Christians, who have done it in no pompous, but rather in a quiet, private way. Many an overburdened heart has been relieved of the pressure upon it by the action of liberal Christians, and hence it is that our poor authorities have been relieved of providing in any unusual degree for the poor so far this season."

—The Knights of Pythias have invaded Tarrytown.

VICINITY.

—Owens of the Fishkill Journal, whose office was burned out, got his paper out on time and will be all right in a few weeks.

—Wm. Baumann and John Allen were arrested in Poughkeepsie on Tuesday for being concerned in the recent burglaries.

—Rev. William Fisher was instituted rector of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Peekskill, on Sunday.

—Poughkeepsie thieves are getting so enterprising that they steal corn by the cart-load.

—The Rensselaer iron works at Troy have resumed, employing 350 hands at a deduction of 20 per cent.

—The Convocation of the Diocese of Albany will be held in St. Luke's Church, Catskill, to-day. Bishop Doane will be present during the services.

—The Newburgh freight and passenger barges are still running, and unless the weather should become excessively cold they will continue to run for a month longer.

—As a result of the late interviews between the locomotive engineers and the officers of the Hudson River Railroad it is stated that no reduction will be made in the pay of the N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R. engineers.

—On Monday the flags on the public buildings and many private residences in Albany were displayed at half-mast as a token of respect for the memory of the late Judge Peckham.

—Two wild steers, said to have escaped from a drove of Texas cattle, roam about North Greenbush. Attempts have been made to shoot them, but as they flee at the sight of the farmers, and the farmers flee at the sight of them, they are still at large.

—About fifty men were thrown out of employment by the burning of Button & Co.'s steam fire engine works at Waterford, Tuesday. The loss is estimated at $30,000; insurance $12,500. The proprietors will rebuild immediately.

—We learn from the Amenia Times that Mr. D. B. Haight, of Dover Plains, has sold a short horned bull and heifer for shipment to the West Indies, a bull to E. Houston, of Georgia, and a bull calf each to W. S. Wilcox and L. Canby, of Sheffield, Mass. Also sheep and swine to numerous parties.

—Gen. W. A. C. Ryan, who met his death at the massacre in Cuba by the Spanish a short time since, was engaged to be married to Miss Gebhard, daughter of a prominent citizen of Schoharie county, and a very amiable and accomplished young lady. The nuptials were to have been celebrated on Thanksgiving Day.

—A young married lady, living near Warwick, on two occasions when returning home alone in a wagon, has been molested by two scoundrels who attempted to get into the wagon. The first time she turned back and got her father to go home with her. On the second attempt she knocked one of the fellows senseless with the butt of her whip and drove on. So says the Advertiser.

—The presiding elders of the Troy Conference have appointed an international camp-meeting to be held at Round Lake, commencing July 8, 1874, and continuing two weeks. All the branches of Methodism in the United States and British America are invited to attend. The Methodist bishops and the other leading men of the denomination have written letters approving the action of the elders of the Troy Conference.

—About half-past five o'clock Tuesday evening, while Patrick Haley, of No. 53 Third street, Albany, was filling a kerosene lamp it exploded, setting fire to the clothing of his little daughter, who was standing near. Her garments were nearly burned off, but she was scarcely injured. Mr. Haley, however, severely burned his hands in extinguishing the flames.

—The puddlers at Burdens' steam mill in Albany held a meeting Saturday evening to consider the strike and the best means of compromising it. There was but one sentiment expressed, and the meeting was short. The men will not work unless Langley, the obnoxious foreman, is disposed of. This was their final decision, and a committee, with President Harris, of the National Puddlers' Union, was appointed to visit the Burdens yesterday morning and announce the decision.

—The members and congregation of the Methodist church in Monticello have just completed a handsome brick parsonage for the use of their pastor. While in the course of erection lumber was continually disappearing, which could not be accounted for. One of the workmen happening to go to work at an earlier hour than usual one morning, discovered a wealthy neighbor, residing not a thousand miles off, carting some of it away. Upon examining his premises all of the missing material was found, some being piled up and the balance "converted" into a corn crib. He was waited upon by members of the congregation and settled the little unpleasantness by giving them his note for $25, in which he stated the money was due for lumber stolen by himself from the church.—Port Jervis Gazette.

THE QUESTION SETTLED.—Those eminent men, Dr. Jas. Clark, Physician to Queen Victoria, and Dr. Hughes Bennett, say that consumption can be cured. Dr. Wistar knew this when he discovered his now widely-known Balsam of Wild Cherry, and experience has proved the correctness of his opinion.

CRANE'S
LYCEUM ENTERTAINMENTS.
—14th YEAR.—
MR. H. M. CRANE

Has the honor to announce the following series of entertainments for the regular season of 1873-4. It has been the aim of the manager to maintain the PRESTIGE which this Lyceum has obtained, and he confidently assures the people that in each and every announcement the high reputation of these entertainments will be abundantly sustained. No course in this country is more replete with the first-class talent of the Platform—and in respect to culture, excellence, and worth is superior to and by far the ablest and most entertaining of any hitherto offered by Crane's Lyceum. It is a galaxy of and just suited to the wants of those, who, wearied with the toils of the day, seek rest and amusement such as shall be pleasing and at the same time elevating.

CONCERT EVERY NIGHT
UNDER THE DIRECTION OF
Mr. Albert Burger

This interval of 45 minutes of musical and social enjoyment has come to be an attractive and popular feature.

"Two Holiday Nights"
CHRISTMAS & NEW YEAR'S!

Order of Entertainments:

4. HON. WILLIAM PARSONS,
(Of Ireland,)
TUESDAY, DEC. 9.
SUBJECT—"GEORGE STEPHENSON, Hero and Benefactor; being the story of a man self-raised from the pit to the palace.
No foreign orator has ever visited us who has been been so successful year after year in delighting American audiences by his scholarly and vivid eloquence, as Hon. William Parsons of Ireland.—It is no more than the simple truth to say that he has never been equalled in the estimation of American Lyceums. He is par excellence an Orator and Humorist. He never disappoints; every time we hear him he seems fresher, more touching, and more humorous. Dr. Dio Lewis says: "He cannot be compared to any other lecturer; he belongs to a new species." Four years ago, unheralded by his agents, and unknown to his audience, Mr. Parsons delivered his first lecture in Boston. He took rank, at once, with the greatest orators of the American Lyceum. His record since then has been the history of the most brilliant success ever achieved in this country by any trans-Atlantic orator.
"Mr. Parsons is one of the very few orators of foreign birth who have carried the New England lyceum, as it were, by storm. Managers and journalists, wherever he has spoken, vie with each other in their eulogiums of him. No other orator from 'abroad,' our brave and eloquent Anna Dickinson, alone excepted, has ever before been invited to lecture in three different courses in Boston during the same season, and also in independent lectures. This unique triumph has been won by Mr. Parsons."—Boston Traveler.

5. DR. J. G. HOLLAND,
WEDNESDAY, DEC. 17.
SUBJECT—"THE ELEMENTS OF PERSONAL POWER."—Does Dr. Holland need any introduction? Guess not! He is an old favorite, and yet new and fresh as ever.

6. The Old Year out with
JOHN B. GOUGH,
"The King of the Platform,"
CHRISTMAS NIGHT, Thursday, Dec 25.
"NOW AND THEN."
This most popular of all living orators has spoken 383 times in one year. It is fair to say that in such addresses he must have spoken to 300,000 different people—and the assertion is here ventured that among his grandest triumphs and greatest compliments, must be placed the greeting he received at Music Hall last season, Dec. 25th, 1872, when with the thermometer marking fifteen degrees below zero, 1300 people from near and far had gathered to hear him.

7. The New Year in With
ANNA DICKINSON,
"The Queen of the Platform,"
NEW YEAR'S NIGHT—THURSDAY, JANUARY 1, 1874.
"For Your Own Sake."
Miss Dickinson's reception last season was the most flattering she ever received here for her sake.

8. MRS. MARY A. LIVERMORE,
WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 7.
SUBJECT:
"What Shall we do with our Daughters."
This is a conundrum a great many people feel interested in having solved. That Mrs. Livermore solves the riddle satisfactorily is attested by the extraordinary demand for this speech. In New England, where the lyceum system is thoroughly organized, and where all the best lecturers are regularly heard, Mrs. Livermore is UNEQUALLED, in popularity, by any other woman.

9. HON. WM. S. ANDREWS,
WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 14.
SUBJECT:—"DIALECT HUMOR."
No lecturer has ever kept his audiences in more constant laughter. There can be no greater evidence of his success than is to be found in the fact that he has frequently been invited to repeat this lecture in the same courses and before the same audience. It is interspersed with illustrations in eighteen dialects, representing as many phases of humorous character. "This lecture is unique and it differs entirely from those of the humorous lectures we are familiar with, because of the variety of its themes."

10. REV. GEO. H. HEPWORTH,
Wednesday, January 21,
SUBJECT—"WHO SHALL WIN?"
This is Mr. H.'s first appearance here, and the manager hazards nothing in the prediction that for a speech finale, nothing better could have been desired. Any one who has heard Hepworth's "Luck and Pluck," can safely anticipate a richer treat in this new lecture.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

CITY NOTES.

—The weatherwise prophecy a thaw now—all the snow is to melt away and the river is to be as free of ice as it was in July. Selah.

—A new establishment has been started uptown, corner Wall and St. James streets, called the wholesale butchering establishment. It is something entirely new to this city.

—John Schnitzler's monkey took a promenade on Mill street about noon-time on Wednesday. It is hard to tell which enjoyed it the most—the monkey or the hoodlums.

—It would take but few such days as Wednesday to make traveling in wheeled vehicles a necessity. The snow vanished about as rapidly as it came.

—James Kerley, the fancy and dry goods merchant in the Mansion House building, blooms out with a handsome sign painted by Tubby.

—A gentleman says, "Next time I come to Kingston I hope I won't get on a Lark—was on one so long Tuesday came near seeing the boys from Brooklyn. Why don't you have a good ferryboat?" That's just what we want to find ourselves ouit.

—During the thaw yesterday, the gutters on Garden street buildings were a nuisance, dripping on the heads of passers continually. The leaders were stopped up and got their first coating of ice. The Freeman office has the best way to clear leaders. It sends a stream of steam up the pipe and down comes the ice and water.

Sale of Real Estate.

Edward Cashin has disposed of a house and one acre of land on Flatbush avenue to Edward Gaskill, formerly of Newark, N. J.

Personal.

The New Paltz Times says the Lion and the Lamb—The Freeman and Gen. Sharpe—have lain down together. What puzzles us is, which is the Lamb?

A Foundling.

On Tuesday evening last about half-past six o'clock a child, apparently but a few hours old, was left in a basket at a private residence on Rogers street. Mr. Hiram Schoonmaker, one of the Alms Commissioners, was notified of the occurrence, and the little waif was conveyed to the Alms House. No clue to the parentage of the child has yet been obtained.

Ice.

Reports from various ice-houses along the river go to show that very little is left over from last winter's crop, consequently the demand for laborers to garner this winter's harvest for the ice companies will be large. The majority of the companies, it is said, favor $1.75 per day as compensation, but there are a few concerns that desire to screw the price down to $1.50 per day.

Kerhonkson Lodge, G. T.

The following is a list of the officers of Kerhonkson Lodge, No. 846, I. O. of G. T., for the term ending Feb. 28th, 1874: W. C. T., John F. Cash; W. V. T., Charity Schoonmaker; W. S., Adele Wilkinson; W. F. S., Adella Knapp; W. T., A. A. Heidrich; W. C., Wm. Van Keuren; W. M., Cornelius Addis; W. I. G., Carrie Lounsberry; W. O. G., John Landrigan; W. A. S., Cyrus Gillespie; W. D. M., Lucretia Schoonmaker; R. H. S., Tamer Gillespie; L. H. S., Saloma Wilkinson; P. W. C. T., Elias Depuy.

The Situation at Glenham.

The Fishkill Standard in referring to the non-sale of the goods at the Glenham factories says that speculators began to arrive early Tuesday morning, and the 10 o'clock train brought quite a large number from different parts of the country far and near. All congregated at the factory office, where samples were laid out, examined and found to be first-class. The visitors, although very much disappointed, took things easy and repaired to their homes as best they could. The employees are far more disappointed, not having obtained any money since the August pay.—Many are very much broken down, but still they believe that some arrangements will soon be made and that the day is not far off. The stock in the mills on the first day of October, being almost in an unsaleable and perishable condition, consisting of the wool in its many different stages of process, between what is called wool sorting department and case of finished goods, has now been changed into a valuable and desirable class of goods.

Sleighing Parties.

Sleighing parties are all the rage uptown nowadays and the faces of the liverymen wear the most satisfied, cheery smiles imaginable. And why shouldn't they when their stables are empty and their horses are careening over the roads and along the avenues at the rate of $2, simply for an appetizer? Of course the girls enjoy this also, and the way the young clerk's pocket-book is depleted is amazing. Allow us to say no gentleman has completed his outfit without a dozen of Mrs. Smith's Havanas from her shop on North Front street. It is astonishing how one of these cigars soothes a fellow after some livery crab has crabbed by his very stylish turnout; and then it is just as soothing to go by some one else and give him a good whiff from your Havana just to show him the merits of cigar and steed combined.

The Scouts To-Night.

Buffalo Bill and Texas Jack, with Wild Bill, M'lle Morlacchi and a troupe of Comanche Indians from the far western plains, appear this evening at Washington Hall in a new and thrilling drama, representing life on our borders towards the setting sun. The prominent personages of the company have appeared here before; but Wild Bill, the most noted living scout and hunter, is a new-comer in the east, though his fame as a frontiersman is well known to our army officers. Wild Bill during the war did good service as a scout and spy against the rebels in Missouri, and he was the subject of an illustrated article in Harper's Monthly therefor. Gen. Custer in his "Life on the Plains" thus describes him: "He is a plainsman in every sense of the word, yet unlike any other of his class. In person he is about six feet one in height, straight as the straightest of warriors, whose implacable foe he is; broad shoulders, well-formed chest and limbs, and a face strikingly handsome; a sharp, clear blue eye, which stares you straight in the face in conversation; a finely shaped nose, inclined to be acquiline; a well-turned mouth, with lips only partially concealed by a handsome moustache. His hair and complexion are those of a perfect blonde. The former is worn in uncut ringlets, falling carelessly over his powerfully-formed shoulders. Add to this figure a costume blending the immaculate neatness of the dandy with the extravagant taste and style of the frontiersman and you have Wild Bill, then [illegible] the most famous scout on the plains." [illegible] Safford, who will be remembered, was [illegible] as the leading lady with Turck's Star Company, is with the "Scouts" as the leading lady of their dramatic company—a fact which increases the attractions of the entertainment.

A Word to the Charitable.

The winter bids fair to be a hard one for the poor, and there will be great need of charity to the suffering. We are not much in the habit of making recommendations for efforts to relieve special classes, but we depart from our usual custom and call attention to some gentlemen who are in a suffering condition, to whom a little aid would be a sweet boon. It has transpired within a few days past that the salaries of Mr. Litchfield, Mr. Bonner, and Mr. Brodhead have not been paid, all three gentlemen asserting positively that the railroad is largely indebted to them. We have heard no amounts named except in Mr. Bonner's case, who claims $1,800. The amounts must be large, as their services were extremely valuable, and quite often indispensable, especially to themselves. Mr. Litchfield and Mr. Bonner seem to be disposed to suffer the loss without any effort to recover, but Mr. Brodhead has concluded to retain Marius Schoonmaker as his counsel to recover his. In the meantime, however, he will have to wait the slow stages of a law-suit, and then the slower raising of the money, so that a soup-house for Litchfield, Bonner and Brodhead appears to be the least the community can furnish. We have only to say that any company that would cheat three such men would rob an orphan asylum.

Meeting of the Commissioners and Stockholders of the Wallkill Valley Railway.

A meeting of the Commissioners and stockholders of the Wallkill Valley Railway was held at the Eagle Hotel, Kingston, on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mr. Eli Van Keuren of Shawangunk was chosen Chairman and called the meeting to order. Mr. Thomas H. Tremper of Kingston was chosen Secretary.

Mr. Ostrander, Secretary of the Wallkill Valley Railway Company, stated that the meeting was called for the purpose of consultation and action in regard to the suit instituted for a foreclosure of the second mortgage bonds. He further stated that the Directors had concluded to defend the suit, and had appointed as a committee Messrs. Sahler, Ostrander and Lefever for that purpose, and that the Hon. A. Schoonmaker, Jr., had been retained as counsel.

After passing resolutions calling for a detailed statement of the condition of the road, the amount of stock and bonds issued and sold, the amount of the floating debt, and the earnings and the expenses of the road, the meeting adjourned until Friday, Dec. 19th, 1873, at the same place and hour.

By a special request of the Vice President of the Company, Mr. Sahler, a reporter of The Freeman was sent to attend this meeting, but he was not allowed in the room during the meeting, and the proceedings as above stated were ascertained after the meeting had adjourned, by parties who attended it.

City Taxes.

The following are the sums voted to be levied upon the city by the Board of Supervisors:

Quota of county charges	$60,402 74
Com's N. Y., K. & S. R. R.	57,358 80
" W. V. R. W.	11,697 00
For School Commissioners	113 50
State Tax for Schools	7,586 28
" " exclusive of Schools	20,913 02
Treasurer's Fees	618 60
Support of City Paupers at County Poor House	1,344 29
Total	$157,031 23

This is a considerable increase over last year, in the quota of county charges alone the increase being nearly $18,000. These sums, in addition to those necessary for the support of our city government, will require a tax of about 5½ per cent. upon the assessed valuation of the city.

Tom Nast.

Tom Nast made pictures and lots of fun last night at Music Hall. His lecture was only a thread on which to string his caricatures, which were jolly and excited the liveliest interest, the audience watching the features as they grew and applauding loudly as each familiar face and form appeared. His first effort was a Laughing Animal, from which he jumped to the British Lion, with Brother Jonathan. The rapidity and careless manner in which he drew was really wonderful, the lines least expected developing into familiar features. His most elaborate picture was the portrait of Andy Johnson, and which he presented to The Freeman after the lecture. Next came himself upon the ferryboat in the fog, the accuracy of which was patent to all. The portrait of himself and the editor to whom he applied for work when he was fourteen was very droll. Ben. Butler fairly stood upon the canvass. The lecture closed with drawing himself in a night-cap, and with a candle in his hand he bid the audience good-night. The audience was large and well pleased.

A Greene County Romance.

In one of the woolen mills at Leeds, Greene county, Mary Green, aged eighteen, was an operative and earned fair wages. Between her and James Mundy a strong attachment existed, and he promised to marry her. Mary's parents opposed the match, and dissuaded their daughter. The parental dislike of Mundy could not be overcome, so she resolved to run away to New York to obtain employment, and then wrote to her lover to join her. She formed the acquaintance of one Thomas Coleman, who encouraged her scheme and induced her to elope with him about a week ago. She had $22 when she reached New York. Coleman took her to the Jersey house at No. 6 James street. There he robbed her of all her money and several dresses. She wrote to her lover to come to New York and marry her. Meantime her parents went to New York and applied to Capt. Ulman. Officer Musgrave found the girl in an out of the way room of the Jersey house. She was taken back to Leeds Friday night.

Didn't Get That Kind.

The Poughkeepsie Eagle of yesterday says: A somewhat amusing incident recently happened to one of our boss mechanics. He was engaged with a gang of men finishing up a building, and having broken a pane of glass (6x10), he sent one of his men after another to replace it. The man whom he sent, having met with some friends, joined them in several drinks, and as a result got "pretty full." After several hours' absence, he wandered back to his place of work, without the glass. On being questioned he replied: "I have (hic) had a good many glasses to-day, but (hic) none six by ten!"

One of the Old Stock.

An old lady from Sullivan county visited the law office of Groo & Wiggins in this village, last week, on business, who is nearly eighty years of age, and who saw the railway cars for the first time on this occasion. The Saturday previous she went into the woods with her axe and chopped a load of wood, and to use her own expression, "the snow was half a leg deep at that." She doesn't care much for cigars, but finds great enjoyment in a clay pipe.—Middletown Press.

Divorce Suit.

The trial of the divorce case of Meyer vs. Meyer was continued before the Referee, J. E. Van Etten, on Wednesday. A number of physicians were sworn and gave their testimony with the ambiguity usual with these men of physic when giving an opinion in a court of law.

Home National Bank of Ellenville Affairs.

ELLENVILLE, Dec. 3., 1873.

At a meeting of the directors of the Home National Bank of Ellenville, held on Tuesday, Dec. 2d, Jacob Hermance was elected Vice President, and George H. Smith was appointed Cashier in place of Peter Lefever, resigned. The reason for Lefever's resignation, aside from the extravagant rumors afloat, are simply these: The late Cashier's affairs having been for some time in an embarrassed condition, he recently used about $8,000 of the bank's funds to meet a pressing liability. On this becoming known to the directors Lefever's resignation was immediately requested and tendered. In justice to the ex-Cashier and the bank we have learned that the funds borrowed were amply secured and have already been restored, so that no loss will result to the institution. The watchfulness and promptitude of the directors in thus speedily disposing of all attempts to tamper with the bank funds is worthy of note in these times of defalcation and corruption. The mistake of Mr Lefever, though probably made in all honesty of purpose, is peculiarly unfortunate, as from his high social position and hitherto irreproachable character he will, no doubt, suffer at the hands of a merciless public.

Why We Didn't Get It.

Our readers doubtless wondered at the abruptness of the termination of the President's message, the greater part of which we received by telegraph and published in Wednesday's issue of The Freeman. We promised to give the whole of it, and would have done so but for an unforeseen and rather amusing occurrence, though it was very annoying to us at the time. It was nothing more nor less than a quarrel between the telegraph operators, the way of which was this: The line by which The Freeman despatches are received extends through to Rutland and Burlington, in "Varmount," where the Associated Press dispatches are also taken. Now the Burlington office is unfortunate in having an operator who don't seem to be a first-class lightning slinger, and when a smart New York operator gets rattling in the "press" he seems to get more muddled than Richardson on the finances and frequently "breaks," thus causing the New Yorker to get up on his ear and hurl double-jointed electric adjectives at the Green Mountain boy. The Freeman night operator, The. McAllister, is one of the best in the country, and seldom gets tangled up, generally running all night without a "break." When Burlington "breaks" it of course sets Mac back, and he can't take anything till Burlington gets straightened up again. Mac is a good-humored fellow, but he gets his dander up sometimes when interrupted by Burlington in the midst of a nicely running report, and then there will be a triangular fight between New York, Rondout and Burlington, in which blue-colored sentences are sent hissing over the wires and mutual expressions of regard are indulged in, the common end of it being the utterance of the threat all around to put "heads upon" each other if they ever meet.

On Tuesday night the New York operator, having a big job on hand, rushed the President's message off at double electric time and it came rattling into the Burlington office in a way that set the verdant young man who presided at the instrument in a frenzy. Pretty soon he began to yell over the wires to "Hold on, for God's sake!" and the Yorker slowed up. So it went on all night, Burlington howling down the line every few moments to "stop a leetle," and New York swearing back at him. These breaks of course prevented Rondout from getting the message as fast as he otherwise would, and by-and-by he got mad. Then there was music, and if old Ben Franklin could have got up and heard what was going on he would have been stricken dumb with wonder at what his discovery had enabled men to do.

Finally, about four o'clock in the morning, New York, after repeated requests from Rondout to give us the message any way, shut off his instrument and went off, all calls on him exciting no response. Rondout howled and raved at him, The Freeman Night Editor used his most persuasive diplomacy, and finally got his mad up and expressed some very mild sentiments regarding the asinine qualities of the New Yorker, The Freeman compositors sat around calling for copy, even if it was "solid," and the night watch was called on to do a little amateur verbal pyrotechny on behalf of the virtuous Freeman chaps, who don't swear, but all to no good,—New York was as silent as the tomb, and The Freeman went to press short about a column and a half of the message.

If Burlington knows what is healthy for him he will keep incog and never venture down here, for if he does there's a rod pickling for him that will make him a good job for a surgeon.

The Lost Found.

One year ago last July a lad named Michael Barrett, aged about 9 years, disappeared very mysteriously from this city, and notwithstanding a notice was inserted in all of the river papers, and everything done on the part of the anxious parents to learn of his whereabouts, they could learn nothing, and gave him up as lost.

Last evening two boys got off the 5:37 train going south and inquired for the Overseer of the Poor, when one of them was recognized as Michael Barrett. He was taken to the residence of his parents on North Front street, and when the fond mother opened the door and there beheld her long lost boy, her joy knew no bounds. Michael's story runs thus: One day while playing about the dock he was approached by a negro, who persuaded him to go aboard one of the canal boats, and there made him a prisoner. The boat was soon made up into one of the tows and on her way to New York, at which place he was transferred to one of the grain boats plying between New York and Buffalo and made to drive on the tow-path and do other work about the boat. Winter coming on he was discharged and told to go home, but as they had given him no money, he hired out to a farmer near Fonda, N. Y., and worked about the place for his board and clothes. In the spring he again shipped on the canal and has been running between Buffalo and New York all summer, receiving nothing but his board and clothes. This fall he was again discharged, this time at Schenectady, together with a boy named John Carrol of Kingston, who had also been carried away from his home in a similar manner. Being without money and rather homesick, Michael decided to try and get home. The two applied to the overseer of the poor, who shipped them as far as Troy, and from Troy they were sent to this city. Michael says he was going to see Overseer of the Poor Payne and have his friend shipped to Kingston, and then go home himself. This morning the boy Carroll was supplied with a ticket and sufficient money to get him to his home in Kingston, and no doubt ere this another household is made happy by the return of one who had long since been given up as dead.—Hudson Star.

—The Journal states that contrary to the reports that come from distant and adjacent places, the Newburgh Alms House has no more inmates now than it has had in other years at this time, and that the out-door relief granted by the Superintendent is not more than usual at this season. It says "assistance has been given in no inconsiderable amount, but it has been proffered by charitable Christians, who have done it in no pompous, but rather in a quiet, private way. Many an overburdened heart has been relieved of the pressure upon it by the action of liberal Christians, and hence it is that our poor authorities have been relieved of providing in any unusual degree for the poor so far this season."

—The Knights of Pythias have invaded Tarrytown.

—The Rensselaer iron works at Troy have resumed, employing 350 hands at a deduction of 20 per cent.

—The Convocation of the Diocese of Albany will be held in St. Luke's Church, Catskill, to-day. Bishop Doane will be present during the services.

—The Newburgh freight and passenger barges are still running, and unless the weather should become excessively cold they will continue to run for a month longer.

—As a result of the late interviews between the locomotive engineers and the officers of the Hudson River Railroad it is stated that no reduction will be made in the pay of the N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R. engineers.

—On Monday the flags on the public buildings and many private residences in Albany were displayed at half-mast as a token of respect for the memory of the late Judge Peckham.

—Two wild steers, said to have escaped from a drove of Texas cattle, roam about North Greenbush. Attempts have been made to shoot them, but as they flee at the sight of the farmers, and the farmers flee at the sight of them, they are still at large.

—About fifty men were thrown out of employment by the burning of Button & Co.'s steam fire engine works at Waterford, Tuesday. The loss is estimated at $30,000; insurance $12,500. The proprietors will rebuild immediately.

—We learn from the Amenia Times that Mr. D. B. Haight, of Dover Plains, has sold a short horned bull and heifer for shipment to the West Indies, a bull to E. Houston, of Georgia, and a bull calf each to W. S. Wilcox and L. Canby, of Sheffield, Mass. Also sheep and swine to numerous parties.

—Gen. W. A. C. Ryan, who met his death at the massacre in Cuba by the Spanish a short time since, was engaged to be married to Miss Gebhard, daughter of a prominent citizen of Schoharie county, and a very amiable and accomplished young lady. The nuptials were to have been celebrated on Thanksgiving Day.

—A young married lady, living near Warwick, on two occasions when returning home alone in a wagon, has been molested by two scoundrels who attempted to get into the wagon. The first time she turned back and got her father to go home with her. On the second attempt she knocked one of the fellows senseless with the butt of her whip and drove on. So says the Advertiser.

—The presiding elders of the Troy Conference have appointed an international camp-meeting to be held at Round Lake, commencing July 8, 1874, and continuing two weeks. All the branches of Methodism in the United States and British America are invited to attend. The Methodist bishops and the other leading men of the denomination have written letters approving the action of the elders of the Troy Conference.

—About half-past five o'clock Tuesday evening, while Patrick Haley, of No. 53 Third street, Albany, was filling a kerosene lamp it exploded, setting fire to the clothing of his little daughter, who was standing near. Her garments were nearly burned off, but she was scarcely injured. Mr. Haley, however, severely burned his hands in extinguishing the flames.

—The puddlers at Burdens' steam mill in Albany held a meeting Saturday evening to consider the strike and the best means of compromising it. There was but one sentiment expressed, and the meeting was short. The men will not work unless Langley, the obnoxious foreman, is disposed of. This was their final decision, and a committee, with President Harris, of the National Puddlers' Union, was appointed to visit the Burdens yesterday morning and announce the decision.

—The members and congregation of the Methodist church in Monticello have just completed a handsome brick parsonage for the use of their pastor. While in the course of erection lumber was continually disappearing, which could not be accounted for. One of the workmen happening to go to work at an earlier hour than usual one morning, discovered a wealthy neighbor, residing not a thousand miles off, carting some of it away. Upon examining his premises all of the missing material was found, some being piled up and the balance "converted" into a corn crib. He was waited upon by members of the congregation and settled the little unpleasantness by giving them his note for $25, in which he stated the money was due for lumber stolen by himself from the church.—Port Jervis Gazette.

LYCEUM ENTERTAINMENTS.
—14th YEAR.—
MR. H. M. CRANE
Has the honor to announce the following series of entertainments for the regular season of 1873-4. It has been the aim of the manager to maintain the PRESTIGE which this Lyceum has obtained, and he confidently assures the people that in each and every announcement the high reputation of these entertainments will be abundantly sustained. No course in this country is more replete with the first-class talent of the Platform—and in respect to culture, excellence, and worth is superior to and by far the ablest and most entertaining of any hitherto offered by Crane's Lyceum. It is a galaxy of and just suited to the wants of those, who, wearied with the toils of the day, seek rest and amusement such as shall be pleasing and at the same time elevating.

CONCERT EVERY NIGHT
UNDER THE DIRECTION OF
Mr. Albert Burger
This interval of 45 minutes of musical and social enjoyment has come to be an attractive and popular feature.

"Two Holiday Nights"
CHRISTMAS & NEW YEAR'S!

Order of Entertainments:

4. HON. WILLIAM PARSONS, (Of Ireland,)
TUESDAY, DEC. 9.
SUBJECT—"GEORGE STEPHENSON, Hero and Benefactor; being the story of a man self-raised from the pit to the palace,
No foreign orator has ever visited us who has been been so successful year after year in delighting American audiences by his scholarly and vivid eloquence, as Hon. William Parsons of Ireland.—It is no more than the simple truth to say that he has never been equalled in the estimation of American Lyceums. He is par excellence an Orator and Humorist. He never disappoints; every time we hear him he seems fresher, more touching, and more humorous. Dr. Dio Lewis says: "He cannot be compared to any other lecturer; he belongs to a new species." Four years ago, unheralded by his agents, and unknown to his audience, Mr. Parsons delivered his first lecture in Boston. He took rank, at once, with the greatest orators of the American Lyceum. His record since then has been the history of the most brilliant success ever achieved in this country by any trans-Atlantic orator.
"Mr. Parsons is one of the very few orators of foreign birth who have carried the New England lyceum, as it were, by storm. Managers and journalists, wherever he has spoken, vie with each other in their eulogiums of him. No other orator from 'abroad,' our brave and eloquent Anna Dickinson, alone excepted, has ever before been invited to lecture in three different courses in Boston during the same season, and also in independent lectures. This unique triumph has been won by Mr. Parsons."—Boston Traveler.

5. DR. J. G. HOLLAND,
WEDNESDAY, DEC. 17.
SUBJECT—"THE ELEMENTS OF PERSONAL POWER."—Does Dr. Holland need any introduction? Guess not! He is an old favorite, and yet new and fresh as ever.

6. The Old Year out with
JOHN B. GOUGH,
"The King of the Platform,"
CHRISTMAS NIGHT, Thursday, Dec 25.
"NOW AND THEN."
This most popular of all living orators has spoken 383 times in one year. It is fair to say that in such addresses he must have spoken to 300,000 different people—and the assertion is here ventured that among his grandest triumphs and greatest compliments, must be placed the greeting he received at Music Hall last season, Dec. 25th, 1872, when with the thermometer marking fifteen degrees below zero, 1300 people from near and far had gathered to hear him.

7. The New Year in With
ANNA DICKINSON,
"The Queen of the Platform,"
NEW YEAR'S NIGHT—THURSDAY, JANUARY 1, 1874.
"For Your Own Sake."
Miss Dickinson's reception last season was the most flattering she ever received here for her sake.

8. MRS. MARY A. LIVERMORE,
WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 7.
SUBJECT:
"What Shall we do with our Daughters."
This is a conundrum a great many people feel interested in having solved. That Mrs. Livermore solves the riddle satisfactorily is attested by the extraordinary demand for this speech. In New England, where the lyceum system is thoroughly organized, and where all the best lecturers are regularly heard, Mrs. Livermore is UNEQUALLED, in popularity, by any other woman.

9. HON. WM. S. ANDREWS,
WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 14.
SUBJECT:—"DIALECT HUMOR."
No lecturer has ever kept his audiences in more constant laughter. There can be no greater evidence of his success than is to be found in the fact that he has frequently been invited to repeat this lecture in the same courses and before the same audience. It is interspersed with illustrations in eighteen dialects, representing as many phases of humorous character. "This lecture is unique and it differs entirely from those of the humorous lectures we are familiar with, because of the variety of its themes."

10. REV. GEO. H. HEPWORTH,
Wednesday, January 21,
SUBJECT—"WHO SHALL WIN?"
This is Mr. H.'s first appearance here, and the manager hazards nothing in the prediction that for a speech finale, nothing better could have been desired. Any one who has heard Hepworth's "Luck and Pluck," can safely anticipate a richer treat in this new lecture.

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BITTERS?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs in Bilious Diseases.

The properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic, Carminative, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant, Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.

A NEW THING UNDER THE SUN

Sixteen Oil Paintings in a Book!

Never before was such an idea attempted for book-illustration; every one who has seen it pronounced it Superb. Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe's latest work,

Woman in Sacred History,

is a series of narrative-sketches, drawn from Scriptural, historical and legendary sources. Illustrated with Sixteen Choice Oil Chromos, after paintings by the most celebrated artists of the world, giving a rich and magnificent variety of oriental costume and beauty. Mrs. Stowe in her charming style has written a book full of interest, and without a dull page in it, which even if not illustrated would sell rapidly; but the

make it one of the most unique, original, and remarkable books ever offered. The pictures, if published separately, would readily sell for $2 each—or $32, while the entire book, with the sixteen pictures, together with the sumptuous bindings of the volume, can be had for one-fifth of that amount. The book is making a tremendous

SENSATION AMONG AGENTS

and salesmen, because it is absolutely new and "has money in it." To get pleasant work and good pay, send for terms, circulars, &c., to J. B. FORD & CO., New York, Boston, Chicago, San Francisco, or Cincinnati. Nov12w4

GOOD NEWS

FOR THE CHILDREN.

St. Nicholas Has Come!!

Christmas comes but once a year, but ST. NICHOLAS, the beautiful new Magazine for Girls and Boys, just published by Scribner & Co., of New York, comes every month.

It is full of good things. Pictures, Stories, Talks with children, Historical Sketches, Fairy Tales, Nursery Rhymes, Jingles, Puzzles, etc.

There are two Serial Stories, "What might have been Expected," a story for boys, already commenced, by Frank R. Stockton, one of the best writers for children in the country. The scene is laid in Virginia. The Boy Hero has started out with a gun on his shoulder, and you may be sure there will be no end of fun and adventure. The other is a story for girls, "NIMPO'S TROUBLES," by Olive Thorne (Mrs. Harriet M. Miller), to begin in January. The Editors say:—"It is a good strong helpful story of girl life, and will be full of interest for both girls and boys. We are not sure but that the boys will like the girls' story the best, and the girls be most delighted with that written for the boys."

Then there is JACK-IN-THE-PULPIT who tells the children the most curious things they ever heard.

ST. NICHOLAS has already won the hearts of the young-folks who are eagerly expecting the next number. The Publishers have issued a very amusing picture, entitled, "Little Children Crying for St. Nicholas."

It is the most beautiful Magazine ever issued, and it has a hundred delightful suggestions for the Little-Folks. Indeed you find in its pages something for all, from grandpapa and grandmama to the baby.

The publishers say, they mean to make it just as good and helpful to the children as they can. They want 100,000 children made happy by ST. NICHOLAS before the Holidays. Price $3.00 a year.—One Price to all. ST. NICHOLAS is for sale by all News Dealers and Subscriptions are received by all Booksellers, Postmasters and Publishers of Newspapers, and by SCRIBNER & CO., 654 Broadway, N. Y.

1874. The World. 1874.

The great Democratic Victories in New York, Ohio, Maryland and Virginia, the startling Republican defeats in Wisconsin, Iowa, Kansas and Illinois, foreshadow the election of a Democratic Congress in 1874, and the election of a Democratic President in 1876.

The secret of the triumph already won has been steadfast adherence to the organization, unflinching fidelity to the principles of the Democratic party. The World has been faithful to its trust.—When faint hearts talked of a spoiled party, a dead party, a new party, it bore aloft the flag of the historic, indomitable Democratic party. That flag, inscribed with the legends Free Trade and Farmers' Rights, Hard Money and no Monopolies,—the Democrats of Ohio and New York carried to a glorious victory, subverting Grant majorities of 37,000 and 51,000.

A new career now opens before the Democracy more glorious and more beneficent than its past career, identified though that be with the founding of the republic, its expansion across the continent, its half century of prosperity and peace.

The open secret of its future, is of its past and present triumphs, is still a steadfast adherence to the organization, an unflinching fidelity to the principles of the Democratic party—principles never so needful as now to be applied throughout our National, State and Municipal life, to heal the wounds and demoralization of war, to stop corrupt and profligate expenditure, to limit and localize powers entrusted to the people's servants, to liberate our industries from the fetters of a barbarous Tariff, our trade from the fluctuations of an irredeemable paper Currency, and our agriculture from the double plundering of both, as well as to repair the wide-spread financial Ruin wrought by the Fiscal policy of the Republican party.

The duty of the The World in this onward march of the Democratic hosts to victory, is the dissemination of political truth. Our work will be fruitful in proportion as The World is widely read.

We ask Democrats everywhere to aid us in scattering the good seed broadcast over the whole land during the period so important to the coming harvests.

Where or how can any Democrat work so efficiently for the diffusion of the principles of his party, and their triumph at the ballot-box in '74 and '76, as by procuring new readers for The World now?

As a vehicle of news, The World will spare no expense, no energy, to maintain and advance its place in the first rank of metropolitan journals.—Its fresh, abundant, various and accurate news, comprising the whole circle of current intelligence, will be discussed as becomes a Trustworthy Organ or Opinion, with candor, with steady devotion to sound public and private morals, with special knowledge for special themes, and with various and wide-reaching apprehension of the manifold interests of men and women in their homes, their market-places, their workshops and their farms.

A NEW THING UNDER THE SUN

Sixteen Oil Paintings in a Book!

Never before was such an idea attempted for book-illustration; every one who has seen it pronounced it Superb. Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe's latest work,

Woman in Sacred History,

is a series of narrative-sketches, drawn from Scriptural, historical and legendary sources. Illustrated with Sixteen Choice Oil Chromos, after paintings by the most celebrated artists of the world, giving a rich and magnificent variety of oriental costume and beauty. Mrs. Stowe in her charming style has written a book full of interest, and without a dull page in it, which even if not illustrated would sell rapidly; but the

make it one of the most unique, original, and remarkable books ever offered. The pictures, if published separately, would readily sell for $2 each—or $32, while the entire book, with the sixteen pictures, together with the sumptuous bindings of the volume, can be had for one-fifth of that amount. The book is making a tremendous

SENSATION AMONG AGENTS

and salesmen, because it is absolutely new and "has money in it." To get pleasant work and good pay, send for terms, circulars, &c., to J. B. FORD & CO., New York, Boston, Chicago, San Francisco, or Cincinnati. Nov12w4

GOOD NEWS

FOR THE CHILDREN.

St. Nicholas Has Come!!

Christmas comes but once a year, but ST. NICHOLAS, the beautiful new Magazine for Girls and Boys, just published by Scribner & Co., of New York, comes every month.

It is full of good things. Pictures, Stories, Talks with Children, Historical Sketches, Fairy Tales, Nursery Rhymes, Jingles, Puzzles etc.

There are two Serial Stories, "What might have been Expected," a story for boys, already commenced, by Frank R. Stockton, one of the best writers for children in the country. The scene is laid in Virginia. The Boy Hero has started out with a gun on his shoulder, and you may be sure there will be no end of fun and adventure. The other is a story for girls, "NIMPO'S TROUBLES," by Olive Thorne (Mrs. Harriet M. Miller), to begin in January. The Editors say:—"It is a good strong helpful story of girl life, and will be full of interest for both girls and boys. We are not sure but that the boys will like the girls' story the best, and the girls be most delighted with that written for the boys"

Then there is JACK-IN-THE-PULPIT who tells the children the most curious things they ever heard.

ST. NICHOLAS has already won the hearts of the young-folks who are eagerly expecting the next number. The Publishers have issued a very amusing picture, entitled, "Little Children Crying for St. Nicholas."

It is the most beautiful Magazine ever issued, and it has a hundred delightful suggestions for the Little-Folks. Indeed you find in its pages something for all, from grandpapa and grandmamma to the baby.

The publishers say, they mean to make it just as good and helpful to the children as they can. They want 100,000 children made happy by ST. NICHOLAS before the Holidays. Price $3.00 a year.—One Price to all. ST. NICHOLAS is for sale by all News Dealers and Subscriptions are received by all Booksellers, Postmasters and Publishers of Newspapers, and by SCRIBNER & CO., 654 Broadway, N. Y.

1874. The World. 1874.

The great Democratic Victories in New York, Ohio, Maryland and Virginia, the startling Republican defeats in Wisconsin, Iowa, Kansas and Illinois, foreshadow the election of a Democratic Congress in 1874, and the election of a Democratic President in 1876.

The secret of the triumph already won has been steadfast adherence to the organization, unflinching fidelity to the principles of the Democratic party. The World has been faithful to its trust.—When faint hearts talked of a spoiled party, a dead party, a new party, it bore aloft the flag of the historic, indomitable Democratic party. That flag, inscribed with the legends Free Trade and Farmers' Rights, Hard Money and no Monopolies,—the Democrats of Ohio and New York carried to a glorious victory, subverting Grant majorities of 37,000 and 51,000.

A new career now opens before the Democracy more glorious and more beneficent than its past career, identified though that be with the founding of the republic, its expansion across the continent, its half century of prosperity and peace.

The open secret of its future, is of its past and present triumphs, is still a steadfast adherence to the organization, an unflinching fidelity to the principles of the Democratic party—principles never so needful as now to be applied throughout our National, State and Municipal life, to heal the wounds and demoralization of war, to stop corrupt and profligate expenditure, to limit and localize powers entrusted to the people's servants, to liberate our industries from the fetters of a barbarous Tariff, our trade from the fluctuations of an irredeemable paper Currency, and our agriculture from the double plundering of both, as well as to repair the wide-spread financial Ruin wrought by the Fiscal policy of the Republican party.

The duty of the The World in this onward march of the Democratic hosts to victory, is the dissemination of political truth. Our work will be fruitful in proportion as The World is widely read.

We ask Democrats everywhere to aid us in scattering the good seed broadcast over the whole land during the period so important to the coming harvests.

Where or how can any Democrat work so efficiently for the diffusion of the principles of his party, and their triumph at the ballot-box in '74 and '76, as by procuring new readers for The World now?

As a vehicle of news, The World will spare no expense, no energy, to maintain and advance its place in the first rank of metropolitan journals.—Its fresh, abundant, various and accurate news, comprising the whole circle of current intelligence, will be discussed as becomes a Trustworthy Organ or Opinion, with candor, with steady devotion to sound public and private morals, with special knowledge for special themes, and with various and wide-reaching apprehension of the manifold interests of men and women in their homes, their market-places, their workshops and their farms.
